NAZIS MOVE WAR MATERIALS ACROSS SYRIA TOWARD IRAQ

United States Reaches Open Break With Vichy Government

MAJOR CAMPAIGN IN ASIA MINOR BELIEVED NEXT MOVE OF HITLER

RAF warplanes were officially reported smashing at German bombers poised at Damascus, Syria, reportedly the oldest city in the world still inhabited by a Nazi tank, were said today to be rumbling across the French-ruled colony en route to the rich oil kingdom of Iraq.

The semi-official Turkish radio broadcast a report that "Axis officers in both Syria and Iraq are going about the streets in uniform."

In Berlin, the well-informed commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland said flatly that "the positions from which the next blow will be struck have been occupied"—an evident reference to Nazi infiltration into Syria and Iraq.

Unconfirmed reports said French fighting planes were escorting German bombers and troop transports in their flights across Syria.

On the North African war front, the German high command acknowledged that British tanks had stormed back into the key frontier post of Salum, just inside Egypt, which has been the scene of fierce fighting for weeks.

A Nazi communiqué also noted that strong British forces advanced on Fort Capuzzo, across the border in Libya.

This would indicate a serious setback to the Axis drive toward the Suez Canal, which only a few days ago had knifed 45 miles into Egypt.

Except for diplomatic formalities, informed quarters said, the United States had reached an open break with the French government of Chief of State Philippe Petain, 85-year-old hero of Verdun.

In London, the British government was reported to have solemnly warned France against further collaboration with Germany, especially in view of developments in the Middle East.

Reuters, British news agency, quoted a dispatch from Cairo that German occupation of Syria had begun, with Nazi tanks, war materials and planes crossing the French-mandated nation in the direction of Iraq—apparently in response to an appeal by Iraq's Premier Rashid Ali Al Kailani, who seized power early in April in a coup d'état.

Twenty big long-range Nazi bombers were reported to have landed at Damascus, and an unspecified number of transport planes at Rayak, 40 miles from Beirut.

Other German planes—bearing advance parties of propagandists and "specialists"—were reported to have landed in Iraq yesterday; and it appeared evident that Adolf Hitler was drawing his battle lines for a major campaign in Asia Minor.

Authorized quarters in London professed confidence that the Iraq situation "can and will be handled all right," but the British government was known to be deeply concerned over France's attitude, and the London Daily Express said bluntly:

"The painful possibility of direct conflict between Britain and Vichy must be faced."

The London radio said the British press agreed generally that "a new and critical phase has been reached in British relations with the men of Vichy."

Only yesterday, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told Commons that RAF warplanes had been "authorized" to bomb Nazi planes in Syria, and unconfirmed reports said the RAF had already attacked one base in the French mandate, which lies next door to Iraq.

Members of parliament were described as feeling that Eden's statement "was in effect a declaration of war on the Vichy government," according to the London News-Chronicle.

Confronting the Axis threat, British reinforcements were reported to have arrived in both Iraq and Palestine.

Dispatches from Beirut, Lebanon, told of new sparks which may spread the conflict still further—a stiff protest by the Iraq government to Emir Abdullah of Trans-Jordan against asserted hostile thrusts by Trans-Jordan forces along the Iraq frontier.

Trans-Jordan, which borders on Iraq and Palestine, is guarded by strong British forces under General Sir Henry Maitland Wilson.

The Baghdad government declared that "swift and severe measures" would be taken if the frontier incidents were not halted.

Living Costs Up 3.7 Since August, 1939

Washington, May 16—(AP)—The cost of living has gone up 3.7 percent since August 1939, the month before the war in Europe began, the Labor Department reported today.

Largely because of higher food prices, the cost of living jumped one percent from mid-March to mid-April.

The department noted that food prices have shown a moderate but steady advance since last November and now are about 5 percent higher than last autumn.

Sugar prices were reported up 7 percent since April 1940, reflecting uncertainty over shipping facilities, and some other food items have jumped 10 and 20 percent over the year.

STRIKE AVERTED IN G. M. PLANTS BY WAGE BOOSTS

One-Year Contract Between the Company and United Automobile Workers Grants Ten-Cent an Hour Increase

OTHER LABOR FRONTS

BULLETIN
New York, May 16—(AP)—Southern soft coal operators and leaders of the United Mine Workers of America (UMW) adjourned their wage conference today with both sides expressing little hope for an agreement which would avert another work stoppage threatened by UMW President John L. Lewis.

The General Motors Corporation averted a strike in 60 of its plants today by accepting a defense mediation board proposal which involved an estimated $50,000,000 yearly increase in wages.

The agreement provided for a one-year contract between the company and the CIO's United Automobile Workers granting a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase, but providing for no closed shop, union shop or maintenance-of-membership shop.

The motor company, whose far-flung plants hold approximately $750,000,000 in defense contracts, accepted the agreement a few hours before the 4:10 a. m. deadline fixed by the board.

The union had agreed to defer the strike until the deadline, but approximately 37,000 workers in five Michigan plants of the company walked out yesterday. Officials attributed the walkout to a misunderstanding of the 24-hour strike postponement agreed on early Thursday.

The agreement had been accepted previously by the union spokesmen, but the contract still needs ratification by the union membership.

Walter P. Reuther, director of the UAW-CIO in General Motors plants expressed confidence that it would be adopted.

Although employees of the Ex-Cell-O Corporation at Detroit voted to accept terms to end their 10-day strike, the management had not agreed to the mediation board's suggestion and the time of reopening the plant thus was uncertain.

Terms of the proposal were not disclosed, but the union had sought a basic wage increase of 10 cents an hour. The current wage rate was not made public.

Philadelphia, May 16—(AP)—A Federal Bureau of Investigation announcement of the possibility of sabotage spurred investigation today of a million-dollar fire which destroyed a huge stock of defense lumber and threatened a shipyard preparing to fill a $120,000,000 naval contract.

Two witnesses said a great sheet of flame shot across the yard of the W. H. Leal Lumber Company in the northeast Philadelphia industrial section within a matter of minutes early yesterday, starting the city's worst blaze in years.

HESS CASE REMAINS A RIDDLE

British Intelligence Service Takes Hand in Bizarre Case of Lieutenant Fuehrer as Government Calls For Expert Help in Analyzing Statements Gleaned From Erstwhile Deputy of Reich

DUKE OF HAMILTON IS IN CONFERENCE

London, May 16—(AP)—The British intelligence service took a hand in the bizarre case of Rudolf Hess today as the government called for expert help in analyzing statements gleaned from Adolf Hitler's erstwhile deputy.

Possible new developments in the affair were foreshadowed, meanwhile, by a conference between Minister of Information Alfred Duff Cooper and the Duke of Hamilton, Scottish nobleman through whom, the Germans assert, Hess believed he could single-handedly arrange peace with Britain.

The Duke, an RAF squadron leader, arrived in London after midnight at the controls of an army plane after talking with Hess for a second time in the secret retreat where the German is guarded as closely as any prisoner who ever entered the old tower of London.

It was reported that the nobleman was accompanied by Ivone Kirkpatrick, foreign office adviser and former British embassy secretary in Berlin who knew Hess before the war and who established his identification.

An authoritative source said today however that Kirkpatrick still was "within reach" of Hess for more of their frequent interviews and that reports Kirkpatrick had come to London were untrue.

After talking with Hamilton for an hour, Duff Cooper was reported to have paid a hurried visit to Prime Minister Churchill.

The Duke of Hamilton, a pre-war acquaintance of Hess, was said to have been given leave from his military duties to help in unravelling the case. He carried a bulky dispatch case when he called on Duff Cooper this morning.

What Hess might have told the duke, Kirkpatrick or high military officials who have talked with him was a matter of great speculation.

Officials circles were silent on all aspects of the case, apparently taking their cue from Churchill, who told Commons yesterday that (Turn To Page Eleven)

Canton, O., May 16—(AP)—Robert Effinger, 51-year-old cafe operator, was shot to death in a daring daylight holdup today when he resisted two robbers who escaped with $13,700 in cash.

Effinger had just drawn the money from a bank in order to cash factory payroll checks. He was ambushed as he emerged from his garage with the money in a satchel.

As he pulled his pistol to resist the two holdup men, one fired a shot into his stomach. Effinger fired one shot as he was falling, but it was wild. He died less than an hour later.

The robbers ran to a car parked in an adjoining lot and escaped. Police said a third man was waiting to drive the car.

Dozen or More French-Flag Ships, Including One of Most Lavishly-Fitted Liners Afloat, Are Boarded By Coast Guardsmen

PROTECTIVE CUSTODY

New York, May 16—(AP)—A dozen or more French-flag vessels, including the giant liner Normandie, one of the most lavishly-fitted ships afloat, were under United States guard today in the federal government's latest move against foreign shipping.

The boarding action by coast guardsmen—placing the French vessels under protective custody—apparently was similar to that taken against Danish merchant ships in American ports but less drastic than the seizure last month of war-stranded German and Italian ships.

The Normandie, her once gay red, white and black superstructure coated by rust and the grime of the city, has lain in dock here since she dashed into port five days after outbreak of the war, safe from a blackout crossing.

Police have guarded her since and few who have passed her pier have failed to "look in to see if she's still there."

Four other French ships were boarded in New York harbor last night by the coast guard. Ten men were placed on the Normandie to guard her, three each on the Ile de Noirmoutier and Mont Everst, which lay beside her, and the Fort Royal and Le De Quessant, which have been playing between New York and Martinique. The latter four are freighters.

The Normandie, with her spectacular Parisian decor, was the largest and fastest ship afloat when she made her maiden voyage to the United States June 3, 1935. Soon she was in competition with the Queen Mary of the Cunard lines for the mythical blue pennant of trans-oceanic speed supremacy and the title changed hands several times before the war stopped their racing.

Her overall length is 1,029 feet (Turn To Page Nine)

RED SEA BAN IS ISSUE DISCUSSED

Washington, May 16—(AP)—President Roosevelt injected today into a discussion of Germany's declaration that the Red Sea will be a danger zone for foreign ships a pointed reminder that twice before in history the United States had used her warships to protect her commerce and obtain freedom of the seas.

He mentioned the action of the new American republic against the Barbary pirates in the Mediterranean a century ago and naval action as well against privateers in the Caribbean.

But when reporters inquired at a press conference whether he thought there were "any modern" age

Smethport, May 16—(AP)—An automobile in which five young bandits escaped Wednesday after robbing the Eldred National Bank of more than $5,000 was found abandoned early today at Hornell, N. Y., police at Kane reported.

The search for the gunmen earlier had centered in southwestern New York, following discovery there of a license plate identified as having been on their car.

State motor police said the Pennsylvania plates had been issued to Charles E. Diehl, an instructor of the Pennsylvania State College center at Altoona. Diehl reported his car had been stolen on May 9.

A second set of plates found on those of Diehl's on an oil base near Whitesville, N. Y., bore the number which had been issued to a suburban Pittsburgh woman.

Officers said several persons in Alfred, N. Y., about 50 miles from Eldred, reported seeing a car answering the description of the one used by the bandits, passing through there Wednesday afternoon. It was headed towards Rochester, N. Y.

A garage attendant in Olean, N. Y., ten miles from Eldred, told police he believed he had serviced the robbers' car last Saturday night and that he had seen it parked on two different nights near the garage.

Utterly Impossible to Exaggerate the Danger Knox Says

Newport, R. I., May 16—(AP)—Declaring that "new factors" have arisen in recent hours, Navy Secretary Frank Knox said today that "it is utterly impossible to exaggerate the mortal danger of our country at this moment of history."

Knox made these statements to the graduating class of the Naval War College, after finishing his prepared address. Apparently pointing to France, he said that "what seems to be the subjugation of a once great nation appears to be accomplished," but that "new factors have entered into this subjugation."

"Ours is not to count the cost. Ours is to remember that freedom was given us as a precious heritage."

Earlier, at a press conference, Knox declared again he felt this country should "insure delivery of materials for Britain." As to method, he told newspapermen to use their heads, and added that whereas in the last war the submarine was one "menace," there now were "the submarine, the surface raider and the airplane."

In answer to another question, Knox said he thought Rudolf Hess was sane, but added he was under the impression that Hess was "two jumps ahead of a gunman."

The National Labor Relations Board reported 8,223 voted in favor of the CIO union in yesterday's 19-hour election at Lackawanna first held in any Bethlehem mill and 2,961 opposed it.

FUTURE OF COLONIES DEBATED

President Roosevelt Takes Unusual Step of Issuing An Appeal to French People Over Head of Petain Regime Which Appears to Have Embraced Program of Increasing Partnership With Germany

NO INTIMATION OF NEXT STEP PLANNED

Washington, May 16—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today that international conditions were too serious for him to interpret or comment further on the implications of his appeal last night to the French people to turn down collaboration with Germany.

He dismissed a barrage of press conference questions seeking to draw him out as to hypothetical. Among the queries he put in that category were these:

Is there likely to be a change in the status of Martinique, the strategic French island at the eastern end of the Caribbean?

Will Admiral William D. Leahy, American ambassador at Vichy, be asked to come back to Washington to report?

Would any additional steps be taken in the French situation?

To a remark that he had made his appeal to the French people, over the heads of the French government, Mr. Roosevelt said his statement last night would have to speak for itself.

Washington, May 16—(AP)—The United States, except for the diplomatic formalities, reached an open break today with the Vichy government of France.

The administration, informed sources said, is satisfied that the Petain regime has embraced a program of increasing partnership with Germany and henceforth must be considered in about the same category as the governments of other Nazi-dominated nations in Europe.

The situation immediately thrust to the fore the future status of French colonial possessions in the western hemisphere, particularly Martinique in the Caribbean and French Guiana on the northeast coast of South America. A high official singled out Martinique as one colony that was receiving special attention.

There was no inkling in government quarters as to just what action might be contemplated, but (Turn To Page Eleven)

REICH IS READY FOR NEXT BLOW PAPER DECLARES

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER

Berlin, May 16—(P)—The "positions from which the next blow will be struck have been occupied," the well-informed Dienst Aus Deutschland declared today in speculation on Germany's next war move.

This significant sentence in the well-posted news commentary was part of an inspired German utterance on French-German relations, in the course of which Dienst said that French Marshal Petain had taken a "positive attitude" in recent discussions.

Germans were vague in public comment, but reflected confidence that satisfactory arrangements with France either had been or were about to be concluded.

(British reports said that German warplanes and panzer units, already have been occupying French-mandated Syria and moving through it toward Iraq and that British planes have bombed German aircraft on Syrian air bases.)

France merely would be applying the American lend-lease principle if she permitted German passage through Syria in order to get at the British in Iraq, informed commentators said today.

Authorized sources would neither confirm nor deny, however, that German planes actually would pass through Syria. Nor would they make any comment which in any way could be regarded as official. (Turn To Page Eleven)

One-Year Contract Between the Company and United Automobile Workers Grants Ten-Cent an Hour Increase

BULLETIN
New York, May 16—(P)—Southern soft coal operators and leaders of the United Mine Workers of America (U. M. W.) today signed a new agreement which would avert another work stoppage threatened by U. M. W. President John L. Lewis.

The General Motors Corporation averted a strike in 60 of its plants today by accepting a defense mediation board proposal which involved an estimated $50,000,000 yearly increase in wages.

The agreement provided for a one-year contract between the company and the U. M. W. of America, granting a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase, but providing for no closed shop, union shop or maintenance-of-membership shop.

The motor company, whose far-flung plants hold approximately $750,000,000 in defense contracts, accepted the agreement a few hours before the 4:10 a. m. deadline fixed by the board.

The union had agreed to defer the strike until the deadline, but approximately 37,000 workers in five Michigan plants of the company walked out yesterday. Officials attributed the walkout to a misunderstanding of the 24-hour strike postponement agreed on early Thursday.

Smethport, May 16—(P)—An automobile in which five young bandits escaped Wednesday after robbing the Eldred National Bank of more than $5,000 was found abandoned early today at Hornell, N. Y., police at Kane reported.

The search for the gunmen earlier had centered in southwestern New York following discovery there of a license plate identified as having been on their car.

State motor police said the Pennsylvania plates had been issued to Charles F. Diehl, an instructor of the Pennsylvania State College center at Altoona. Diehl reported his car had been stolen on May 8.

A second set of plates found with those of Diehl's on an oil lease near Whitesville, N. Y., bore the number which had been issued to a suburban Pittsburgh woman.

Officers said several persons in Alfred, N. Y., about 50 miles from Eldred, reported seeing a car answering the description of the one used by the bandits, passing through there Wednesday afternoon. It was headed towards Rochester, N. Y.

A garage attendant in Olean, N. Y., ten miles from Eldred, told police he believed he had serviced the robbers' car last Saturday night and that he had seen it parked on two different nights near the garage.

RED SEA BAN IS ISSUE DISCUSSED

Washington, May 16—(P)—President Roosevelt injected today into a discussion of Germany's declaration that the Red Sea will be a danger zone for foreign ships a pointed reminder that twice before in history the United States had used her warships to protect her commerce and obtain freedom of the seas.

He mentioned the action of the new American republic against the Barbary pirates in the Mediterranean a century ago and naval action as well against privateers in the Caribbean.

FUTURE OF COLONIES DEBATED

President Roosevelt Takes Unusual Step of Issuing An Appeal to French People Over Head of Petain Regime Which Appears to Have Embraced Program of Increasing Partnership With Germany

NO INTIMATION OF NEXT STEP PLANNED

Washington, May 16—(P)—President Roosevelt said today that international conditions were too serious for him to interpret or comment further on the implications of his appeal last night to the French people to turn down collaboration with Germany.

He dismissed a barrage of press conference questions seeking to draw him out as too hypothetical. Among the queries he put in that category were these:

Is there likely to be a change in the status of Martinique, the strategic French island at the eastern end of the Caribbean?

Will Admiral William D. Leahy, American ambassador at Vichy, be asked to come back to Washington to report?

Would any additional steps be taken in the French situation?

To a remark that he had made his appeal to the French people, over the heads of the French government, Mr. Roosevelt said his statement last night would have to speak for itself.

Washington, May 16—(P)—The United States, except for the diplomatic formalities, reached an open break today with the Vichy government of France.

The administration, informed sources said, is satisfied that the Petain regime has embraced a program of increasing partnership with Germany and henceforth must be considered in about the same category as the governments of other Nazi-dominated nations in Europe.

The situation immediately thrust to the fore the future status of French colonial possessions in the western hemisphere, particularly Martinique in the Caribbean and French Guiana on the northeast coast of South America. A high official singled out Martinique as one colony that was receiving special attention.

There was no inkling in government quarters as to just what action might be contemplated, but (Turn To Page Eleven)

CORPORATE NET INCOME TAX MAY UNDERGO SLASH

Harrisburg, May 16—(P)—An $8,000,000 slash in the corporate net income tax for the next two years is contemplated by the House appropriations committee, Democratic leaders in the legislature said today.

The committee, they added, plans to report to the House next week that Governor James under- (Turn To Page Nine)

His petition asserted the act was in contravention of principles of the declaration of Independence which denounced the British monarch because he "affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power."

Mr. Lambert further added he had not registered because he is a conscientious objector and because: "The selective service act violated the first and ninth amendments, guaranteeing religious freedom and the rights 'reserved by the people' there has been no declaration of a state of war; and, the act violated states' rights."

Judge Nelson McVicar set May 20 as a date for the U. S. attorney to answer the petition.

The 34-year old minister would have been exempt from military service anyway, but had refused to register last year.

Pittsburgh, May 16—(P)—A contention that the selective service act violated the very rights for which the American colonies rebelled against King George III of England, was raised by a pastor accused of attempting to avoid the draft.

The Rev. Allen Clay Lambert, pastor of the Spring Valley United Lutheran church near Altoona, advanced that view yesterday in a petition seeking dismissal of an indictment charging him with draft evasion.

WARREN--45 YEARS AGO

(NOTE: This is the ninth of a series. Names in the news and little happenings taken from the Warren Evening Mirror bring to us in 1941 the atmosphere of 1896.)

The street sprinkler ventured out this morning in a brand new spring suit of modest and plain design. —why ventured?

The Warren Weekly Mirror notifies the Green Bicyclist that among the first things for him to learn is which side of the street belongs to him.

A hat almost on her nose, a linen gown, chocolate shoes and a narrow belt proclaims the summer girl of 1896.

Among those who left for the Thousand Islands today were: Miss Mayme Kopf, Mrs. Mary Brann, Miss Kate Winger, Miss Minnie Davis, Miss Raney, Mrs. Frank Cogswell and mother, Mrs. Keller and Mr. W. S. Laffard. —too many girls.

Knights and Ladies of the Maccabees of Corydon are making preparations for their annual ox roast. —sounds worth reviving.

It will be gratifying to the many friends of Dr. Durham to hear that he stood highest among between 500 and 600 students in diagnosis and hygiene in the examination before the State Board in Harrisburg. —no wonder he stood so high here.

The fourth semi-annual meeting of the Woman's Essential Brigade will be held in the Presbyterian lecture room at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. —there's glamor in that name.

The Bicycle Thief is getting in his work again. —idea for a radio serial.

Dr. Pierce, Mrs. F. P. Hue, Bert Galbraith and Miss Lizzie Pierce enjoyed a very pleasant cruise on the Allegheny Monday. They went to Corydon on the morning train, and floated down the river in a canoe. —wonder what the well-dressed canoeist wore?

A new and very neat sideboard has been placed in the barber shop of Gus Mull. It was done by Newmaker & Reed. —to hold individual shaving mugs, Gus?

Bert Rockwell recently passed examinations for entrance to Harvard College and will enter upon his studies there this fall.

Mrs. C. H. Meacham did the catering, to the great delight of the many friends and guests at the Lamb-Green wedding at Kinzua Wednesday. —perfect names for a Spring wedding.

What Baseball Team Is This?

Can you name any of these men? Are their team initials G. A. C. or C. A. C.? There used to be a Columbia Athletic Club. If you can help us name the men on the team, call 1320 or write Metzger-Wright's. What we learn from you will be published later. Hidden away in a dark corner of the Times-Mirror attic, a box of old electrotypes was found recently. Many were too faded to use, but some interesting ones of Warren of an earlier day came to light. This is the ninth picture reprinted.

The group of men pictured yesterday was a rifle club that once represented Warren, a subscriber declares, and was considered one of the best in the country. It was composed of the following: First row, sitting, Edward Sweeting and Fred Keller; second row, Eric Munson, Harry Wheelock, Dr. F. G. Haines, Dr. W. M. Robertson, Freeman Peterson; back row, Clarence Minium, Frank Jefferson, Leo Printz and John Newell.

SEEK RELATIVES OF MAN KILLED ON R. R. TRACKS

Local authorities are today attempting to locate relatives of Adam Bumber, about 55, an alien believed to be a transient, whose body was found early yesterday afternoon on the lower trestle of the New York Central railroad, spanning the Conewago creek, south of Russell.

Although the manner in which the man met his death may never definitely be established, Coroner Ed C. Lowrey stated the position of the body and the nature of the injuries would indicate that the transient had gone to sleep on the trestle with his head near the rails and that he had been struck by some part of a train. Bumber received a deep gash on the right side of the forehead which fractured his skull.

Local officials of the railroad company said that the last train to pass over the trestle before Bumber's body was discovered arrived in Warren at 11:55 Wednesday night.

The body was discovered at 2:40 o'clock by two fishermen, Carl Nelson and John Samuelson, both residents of Canton street, Warren, who notified Coroner Lowrey. The body was brought to the Lutz Funeral Home.

The man was carrying an alien registration card, made out in Dunkirk on October 15, 1940, giving his last known address as the Okay Hotel, 520 Woodlawn avenue, Cleveland. Near the body was found a package containing pastry in a Citizens Baking Company of Jamestown wrapper. He also had a quantity of rolled meat, tobacco, handkerchiefs and a pocket knife.

FINAL CASE IS BEING TRIED AT MAY COURT TERM

The May civil court jury today found for the defendant in the case of Julia Ackerman, R. G. Ackerman and Calvert Fire Insurance Company vs. G. E. Johnson and Goldie E. Johnson, trespass.

The plaintiffs claimed damages as a result of an automobile accident on the Goodwill Hill road, on March 23, 1940, involving cars operated by R. G. Ackerman and Goldie E. Johnson.

The defendant was represented by Attorney Allison D. Wade, of this city, and the plaintiff by Attorneys Benjamin McFate, of Oil City, and C. Henry Nicholson, of Warren.

The final case marked for trial is also a trespass action, Hilma O. Peterson vs. Floyd Seigworth and Lee Seigworth, trading as the Fryburg Motor Company, and Walter Slye.

C. Henry Nicholson is attorney for the plaintiff and Harold S. Hampson represents the defendant.

HOME COTTAGE

The committee for the Bombed Hospitals Fund of Bundles for Britain in making arrangements for the open house at "Home Cottage" of the late Byron B.
Horton at Barnes Saturday and Sunday afternoons, from one until five o'clock, have hit upon a novel and instructive method for arousing interest in this very worthy cause. The group is fortunate in being able to present this attraction to the public before the contents of the house are disposed of. The following historical sketch about the cottage has been furnished
by the committee:

"Home Cottage" situated on the west side of the Warren and Ridgway turnpike in Barnes, 2 1/2 miles from Sheffield, was built by the late Byron Barnes Horton in 1925. It replaced a small house originally built in 1847 by Erasmus Barnes, Mr.
Horton's maternal grandfather.

The village of Barnes was first settled in 1828 by Timothy Barnes III, a lumberman and miller from Italy. Yates Co., N. Y., who was attracted by the vast supply of virgin white pine timber. His son, Erasmus, married Eliza Jane Eddy, daughter of Zachariah Eddy of Warren, Pa., and all their children were born in this house. Erasmus Barnes was a prominent lumberman in this section, rafting his lumber down the Tionesta Creek to Pittsburgh and Louisville.

When Mr. Horton remodeled the house he engaged the architectural firm of Derby and Robinson of Boston, Mass., foremost experts on Cape Cod type houses, and nothing was left undone in the building of an attractive, well-designed house of the period of 1820, authentic in every detail. The cottage was then furnished with family heirlooms and beautiful antiques
and, save for its informality, it is a small Colonial museum.
Every room has a fireplace and most of the rooms are paneled on the fireplace side. An outstanding feature is the dining room with its Chippendale chairs. Sheraton sideboard and Duncan Phyfe tables. "Scenic America" paper is used in this room.
The book room is much admired for its stained white pine paneling. The grounds and gardens are in keeping with the house.

FRANCO-GERMAN ALLIANCE

The threat of a Franco-German "collaboration" alliance which President Roosevelt believes can jeopardize western hemisphere "peace and security" finds the United States prepared today for any action needed to safeguard American interests. This is the impression gained today in news from official Washington.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was said, possesses sufficient authority without going to congress to take whatever steps are necessary to counter any joint Nazi-Vichy action endangering the interests of the United States and the other twenty American republics.

The gravest threat to the American nations, it is said, is the possibility that, in "collaborating," France
may be forced to turn over to Germany her fleet and the strategic naval bases at Dakar, Oran and Bizerte.

President Roosevelt, Secretary Hull and other American officials have made it unmistakably plain in several addresses that Germany's acquisition of the French fleet—believed now to comprise 92 warships of all categories, including sixty submarines—would be considered a direct threat to the American nations.

German control of Dakar on the hump of the African coast commanding south Atlantic sea-lanes, naval authorities pointed out in Washington today, would provide the Nazis with a base from which U-boats and bombers could play havoc with American shipping and with Britain's "life-line" around the Cape of Good Hope.
Dakar has been spoken of often as a logical "jumping off" point for a thrust against South Africa.

In the western hemisphere, a Vichy-Berlin Axis of
"collaboration" brings into question the status of the French colonial possessions—Martinique, Guadeloupe,
French Guiana, St. Pierre and Miquelon.

Martinique shelters 100 American-made warplanes which were enroute to France when the armistice was signed; the aircraft carrier Bearn, at least one other French naval vessel, and several merchant ships; and from $50,000,000 to $250,000,000 of French gold. Incidentally Martinique is now almost completely dependent on the United States since it is out of French trade with France.

A group of Selectees is leaving for the terminal this afternoon at 4:40 o'clock and it is anticipated that a large crowd of relatives, friends and Committee members will be on hand to join in the farewell.

It seems that Hess found a new way to get a walk—
by airplane!

NEW YORK—West 44th Street
at 6th Avenue has become a bargain center for those who like jewelry made from shells. . . .
Nassau bubble shell, periwinkle
from Haiti, curved bamboo and hoodoo beads from Haiti, Indian shell-head work from Mexico, and sandwood beads that retain their aromatic scent are displayed. . . . Also white beads from Panama and bracelets of mangrove from Key West.

Fred Allen sums up H. Allen
Smith thusly. "He is a waste of skin. . . . At a cannibal's buffet he would be hors d'oeuvre. . . . When he dreams he only has time for a synopsis. . . . He was the first man to discover that you can cut a sleeping pill in half and enjoy a nap." Smith is a N. Y. newspaperman who has confessed his experiences in a book titled "Low-Man on a Totem Pole. . . . Allen's appraisal of Smith, which runs to hundreds of words, "is to be found in the preface, contributed by Allen himself."

Remember Hoot Gibson, the ex-movie cowboy? . . . He's a song writer now. . . . Jack Leonard's new $500 week contract ran only one week before the army called him. . . . I have never seen Katharine Cornell or Helen Hayes in a nightclub. . . . Clifford Odets, since the collapse of the Group Theater, seems moody and morose; at least, he gives this impression in public. . . .

ONE of those interesting fellows you meet around New York is a Mexican warner in a 46th street restaurant named Ramon Viljos. He fought in the Mexican revolution with Villa

and in several other revolutions
in South America. Villa's rattlesnake pit, he says, actually existed. "It's a memory for political doubters to toss them into the pit where the snakes could get at them. . . ."

Winston Churchill's former secretary says in his reminiscences,
"I was Churchill's Secretary."
That the Prime Minister once
had a "crush" on Ethel Barrymore. That was years ago when Miss Barrymore was the toast of London. In those days there were many who felt that way about the actress.

She says herself that once she fell in love with a poor and struggling musician, which prompted her to send this cable
to her father, Maurice Barrymore: "Am in love with an unhappy musician. We have decided to get married and be miserable
together."

Maurice cabled back, "Congratulations."

A week later Ethel cabled her father again, "All off between us.
No marriage."

Again Maurice cabled back,
"Congratulations."

WITH Paris now overrun by Germans one wonders what has happened to Arthur Lee's Volupte, a famous torso delicately fashioned in rose marble.
Lee did Volupte in Paris during the First World War. His model
was the fiancée of a French officer who was at the front. He had finished the torso and was preparing the head when the fiancée returned on furlough. She never came back to pose again.

The shortage of houses in War-who are unable to rent houses have pitched tents on Park street on the Lacy farm and will spend the summer there. This would be a good example for other Warren people to follow during the sum-

FRANCE has been defeated in Cancer.

also honored on Panama's postal whose discovery of X-ray gave medicine another weapon in the fight against cancer, entered philatelically the gallery on a Danzig stamp.

Radium and cancer institutes also have been pictured on several stamps.

Education is the greatest force in the cure of cancer. For medical science knows cancer can be cured, if recognized and treated by surgery, X-ray or radium in early stages. The principal obstacles which must be overcome
are fear, quackery, delay.

HOME COTTAGE

The committee for the Bombed Hospitals Fund of Bundles for Britain in making arrangements for the open house at "Home Cottage" of the late Byron B.
Horton at Barnes Saturday and Sunday afternoons,
from one until five o'clock, have hit upon a novel and interesting method for arousing interest in this very worthy cause. The group is fortunate in being able to present this attraction to the public before the contents of the house are disposed of. The following historical sketch about the cottage has been furnished
by the committee:

"Home Cottage" situated on the west side of the Warren and Ridgway turnpike in Barnes, 2½ miles from Sheffield, was built by the late Byron Barnes Horton in 1925. It replaced a small house originally built in 1847 by Erastus Barnes, Mr.
Horton's maternal grandfather.

The village of Barnes was first settled in 1828 by Timothy Barnes III, a lumberman and miller from Italy, Yates Co., N. Y., who was attracted by the vast supply of virgin white pine timber. His son, Erastus, married Eliza Jane Eddy, daughter of Zachariah Eddy of Warren, Pa., and all their children were born in this house. Erastus Barnes was a prominent lumberman in this section, rafting his lumber down the Tionesta Creek to Pittsburgh and Louisville.

When Mr. Horton remodeled the house he engaged the architectural firm of Derby and Robinson of Boston, Mass.,
foremost experts on Cape Cod type houses, and nothing was left undone in the building of an attractive, well-designed house of the period of 1820, authentic in every detail. The cottage was then furnished with family heirlooms and beautiful antiques
and, save for its informality, it is a small Colonial museum.
Every room has a fireplace and most of the rooms are paneled on the fireplace side. An outstanding feature is the dining room with its Chippendale chairs, Sheraton sideboard and Duncan
Phyfe tables. "Scenic America" paper is used in this room.
The book room is much admired for its stained white pine panelling. The grounds and gardens are in keeping with the house.

FRANCO-GERMAN ALLIANCE

The threat of a Franco-German "collaboration" alliance which President Roosevelt believes can jeopardize western hemisphere "peace and security" finds the United States prepared today for any action needed to safeguard American interests. This is the impression gained today in news from official Washington.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was said, possesses sufficient authority without going to congress to take whatever steps are necessary to counter any joint Nazi-Vichy
action endangering the interests of the United States
and the other twenty American republics.

The gravest threat to the American nations, it is said, is the possibility that, in "collaborating," France
may be forced to turn over to Germany her fleet and the strategic naval bases at Dakar, Oran and Bizerte.

President Roosevelt, Secretary Hull and other American officials have made it unmistakably plain in several addresses that Germany's acquisition of the French fleet—believed now to comprise 92 warships of all categories, including sixty submarines—would be considered a direct threat to the American nations.

German control of Dakar on the hump of the African coast commanding south Atlantic sea-lanes, naval authorities pointed out in Washington today, would provide the Nazis with a base from which U-boats and bombers could play havoc with American shipping and with Britain's "life-line" around the Cape of Good Hope.
Dakar has been spoken of often as a logical "jumping
off" point for a thrust against South Africa.

In the western hemisphere, a Vichy-Berlin Axis of
"collaboration" brings into question the status of the French colonial possessions—Martinique, Guadeloupe,
French Guiana, St. Pierre and Miquelon.

Martinique shelters 100 American-made warplanes
which were enroute to France when the armistice was signed; the aircraft carrier Bearn, at least one other French naval vessel, and several merchant ships; and from $50,000,000 to $250,000,000 of French gold. Incidentally Martinique is now almost completely dependent on the United States since it is cut off from trade with France.

A group of Selectees is leaving the bus terminal this afternoon at 4:40 o'clock and it is anticipated that a large crowd of relatives, friends and Committee members will be on hand to join in the farewell.

It seems that Hess found a new way to take a walk—

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—West 44th Street
at 6th Avenue has become a bargain center for those who like jewelry made from shells. . . .
Nassau bubble shell, periwinkle
from Haiti, curved bamboo and hollow beads from Haiti, Indian shell-bead work from Mexico, and sandalwood beads that retain their aromatic scent are displayed. . . . Also white beads from Panama and bracelets of mangrove from Key West.

Fred Allen sums up H. Allen
Smith thusly, "He is a waste of skin. . . . At a cannibal's buffet he would be hors d'oeuvre. . . . When he dreams he only has time for a synopsis. . . . He was the first man to discover that you can cut a sleeping pill in half and enjoy a nap." Smith is a N. Y. newspaperman who has confessed his experiences in a book titled "Low Man on a Totem Pole." . . . Allen's appraisal of Smith, which runs
to hundreds of words, is to be found in the preface, contributed
by Allen himself.

Remember Hoot Gibson, the ex-movie cowboy? . . . He's a song writer now. . . . Jack Leonard's new $500 week contract ran only one week before the army called him. . . . I have never seen Katharine Cornell or Helen Hayes in a nightclub. . . . Clifford Odets, since the collapse of the Group Theater, seems moody and moose; at least, he gives this impression in public. . . .

ONE of those interesting fellows you meet around New York is a Mexican waiter in a 46th street restaurant named Ramon Viljos. He fought in the Mexican revolution with Villa

and in several other revolutions
in South America. Villa's rattlesnake bite, he says, actually existed. Villa's remedy for political doubts was to toss them into the pit where the snakes could
get at them. . . .

Winston Churchill's former secretary says in her reminiscences,
"I was Churchill's Secretary,"
that the Prime Minister once
had a "crush" on Ethel Barrymore. That was years ago when Miss Barrymore was the toast of London. In those days there were many who felt that way about the actress.

She says herself that once she fell in love with a poor and
struggling musician which prompted her to send this cable
to her father, Maurice Barry-
more: "Am in love with an unhappy musician. We have decided to get married and be miserable
together."

Maurice cabled back, "Congratulations."
A week later Ethel cabled her father again, "All off between us.
No marriage."

Again Maurice cabled back,
"Congratulations."

WITH Paris now overrun by Germans one wonders what has happened to Arthur Lee's
"Volupte," a famous torso definitely fashioned in rose marble.
Lee did Volupte in Paris during
the First World War. His model
was the fiancée of a French officer who was at the front. He had finished the torso and was preparing the delicate task of modeling the head when the fiancée returned on furlough. She never came back to pose again.

IN War Against Cancer

FRANCE has been defeated in war with Germany but the war against disease never ends. A recent French semi-postal, above, symbolizes the battle of Science
and the seven-headed dragon,
Cancer.

This is the second French release to provide funds for control of cancer. The 1938 issue pictured Pierre and Marie Curie, discoverers of radium. The Curies were also honored on Panama's postal tax issue, and Mme. Curie appears on a Turkish stamp.

William Konrad von Roentgen, whose discovery of X-ray gave medicine another weapon in the fight against cancer, entered philately's gallery on a Danzig stamp.
Radium and cancer institutes also have been pictured on several stamps.

Education is the greatest force in the cure of cancer. For medical science knows cancer can be cured, if recognized and treated
by surgery, X-ray or radium in early stages. The principal obstacles which must be overcome
are fear, quackery, delay.

HOME COTTAGE

The committee for the Bombed Hospitals Fund of Bundles for Britain in making arrangements for the open house at "Home Cottage" of the late Byron B.
Horton at Barnes Saturday and Sunday afternoons,
from one until five o'clock, have hit upon a novel and instructive method for arousing interest in this very worthy cause. The group is fortunate in being able to present this attraction to the public before the contents of the house are disposed of. The following historical sketch about the cottage has been furnished
by the committee:

"Home Cottage" situated on the west side of the Warren and Ridgway turnpike in Barnes, 2 1/2 miles from Sheffield, was built by the late Byron Barnes Horton in 1925. It replaced a small house originally built in 1847 by Erasmus Barnes, Mr.
Horton's maternal grandfather.

The village of Barnes was first settled in 1828 by Timothy Barnes III, a lumberman and miller from Italy. Yates Co., N. Y., who was attracted by the vast supply of virgin white pine timber. His son, Erasmus, married Eliza Jane Eddy, daughter of Zachariah Eddy of Warren, Pa., and all their children were born in this house. Erasmus Barnes was a prominent lumberman in this section, rafting his lumber down the Tionesta Creek to Pittsburgh and Louisville.

When Mr. Horton remodeled the house he engaged the architectural firm of Derby and Robinson of Boston, Mass.,
foremost experts on Cape Cod type houses, and nothing was left undone in the building of an attractive, well-designed house of the period of 1820, authentic in every detail. The cottage was then furnished with family heirlooms and beautiful antiques
and, save for its informality, it is a small Colonial museum.
Every room has a fireplace and most of the rooms are paneled on the fireplace side. An outstanding feature is the dining room with its Chippendale chairs, Sheraton sideboard and Duncan
Phyfe tables. "Scenic America" paper is used in this room.
The book room is much admired for its stained white pine panelling. The grounds and gardens are in keeping with the house.

FRANCO-GERMAN ALLIANCE

The threat of a Franco-German "collaboration" alliance which President Roosevelt believes can jeopardize western hemisphere "peace and security" finds the United States prepared today for any action needed to safeguard American interests. This is the impression gained today in news from official Washington.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was said, possesses sufficient authority without going to congress to take whatever steps are necessary to counter any joint Nazi-Vichy
action endangering the interests of the United States
and the other twenty American republics.

The gravest threat to the American nations, it is said, is the possibility that, in "collaborating," France
may be forced to turn over to Germany her fleet and the strategic naval bases at Dakar, Oran and Bizerte.

President Roosevelt, Secretary Hull and other American officials have made it unmistakably plain in several addresses that Germany's acquisition of the French fleet—believed now to comprise 92 warships of all categories, including sixty submarines—would be considered a direct threat to the American nations.

German control of Dakar on the hump of the African coast commanding south Atlantic sea-lanes, naval authorities pointed out in Washington today, would provide the Nazis with a base from which U-boats and bombers could play havoc with American shipping and with Britain's "life-line" around the Cape of Good Hope.
Dakar has been spoken of often as a logical "jumping
off" point for a thrust against South Africa.

In the western hemisphere, a Vichy-Berlin Axis of
"collaboration" brings into question the status of the French colonial possessions—Martinique, Guadeloupe,
French Guiana, St. Pierre and Miquelon.

Martinique shelters 100 American-made warplanes
which were enroute to France when the armistice was signed; the aircraft carrier Bearn, at least one other French naval vessel, and several merchant ships; and from $50,000,000 to $250,000,000 of French gold. Incidentally Martinique is now almost completely dependent on the United States since it is cut off from trade with France.

NEW YORK—West 44th Street
at 6th Avenue has become a bargain center for those who like jewelry made from shells. . . .
Nassau bubble shell, periwinkle
from Haiti, curved bamboo and hoodoo beads from Haiti, Indian shell-head work from Mexico, and sandwich beads that retain their aromatic scent are displayed. . . . Also white beads from Panama and bracelets of mangrove from Key West.

Fred Allen sums up H. Allen
Smith thusly, "He is a waste of skin. . . . At a cannibal's buffet he would be hors d'oeuvre. . . . When he dreams he only has time for a synopsis. . . . He was the first man to discover that you can cut
a sleeping pill in half and enjoy a nap." Smith is a N. Y. newspaperman who has confessed his experiences in a book titled "Low-Man on a Totem Pole. . . . Allen's appraisal of Smith, which runs
to hundreds of words, is to be found in the preface, contributed
by Allen himself.

Remember Hoot Gibson, the ex-movie cowboy? . . . He's a song writer now. . . . Jack Leonard's new $500 week contract
ran only one week before the army called him. . . . I have never seen Katharine Cornell or Helen Hayes in a nightclub. . . . Clifford Odets, since the collapse of the Group Theater, seems moody and morose; at least, he gives this impression in public. . . .

ONE of those interesting fellows you meet around New York is a Mexican waiter in a 46th street restaurant named Ramon Vijos. He fought in the Mexican revolution with Villa

and in several other revolutions
in South America. Villa's rattlesnake, he says, actually existed. Villa's remedy for political doubters was to toss them into the pit where the snakes could
get at them. . . .

Winston Churchill's former secretary says in his reminiscences,
"I was Churchill's Secretary."
That the Prime Minister once
had a "crush" on Ethel Barrymore. That was years ago when Miss Barrymore was the toast of London. In those days there were many who felt that way about the actress.

She says herself that once she fell in love with a poor and struggling musician, which prompted her to send this cable
to her father, Maurice Barrymore: "Am I love with an unhappy musician. We have decided to get married and be miserable
together."

Maurice cabled back, "Congratulations."
A week later Ethel cabled her father again, "All off between us.
No marriage."

Again Maurice cabled back,
"Congratulations."

WITH Paris now overrun by Germans one wonders what has happened to Arthur Lee's Volupte, a famous torso delicately fashioned in rose marble.
Lee did Volupte in Paris during
the First World War. His model
was the fiancée of a French officer who was at the front. He had finished the torso and was preparing the head when the fiancee returned on furlough. She never came back to pose again.

The Good Fellowship club house on the Page Hollow road, about three-quarters of a mile from the Lacy school, was totally destroyed with its contents in a fire that was discovered about three o'clock Sunday morning. Officials of the club estimate the value of the property at $20,000. Cause of the blaze will perhaps always remain a mystery.

One hundred and twenty-five

There was a frost sufficient to freeze water last night, and it did considerable damage to crops

FRANCE has been defeated in war with Germany but the war against disease never ends. A recent French semi-postal, above,
symbolizes the battle of Science
and the seven-headed dragon,
Cancer.

This is the second French release to provide funds for control
of cancer. The 1938 issue pictured Pierre and Marie Curie, discoverers of radium. The Curies were also honored on Panama's postal tax issue, and Mme. Curie appears on a Turkish stamp.

William Konrad von Roentgen,
whose discovery of X-ray gave medicine another weapon in the fight against cancer, entered philatelyst's gallery on a Danzig stamp.
Radium and cancer institutes also
stamps.

Education is the greatest force in the cure of cancer. For medical science knows cancer can be cured, if recognized and treated
by surgery, X-ray or radium in early stages. The principal obstacles which must be overcome
are fear, quackery, delay.

BUSY SESSION HELD BY BOARD AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, May 15—At this week's meeting of the Youngsville school board, in addition to routine business, several matters of interest were discussed.

The board approved of the Warren County Tuberculosis Society giving the tubercular test to the children of the Youngsville school. This is the patch test. The board is especially desirous of the test being applied to those in athletics and of the members of the junior class. In some schools in this vicinity the test has been taken by nearly a hundred percent of the pupils of the school, parents in each case giving their consent. The White memorial program will be held Friday afternoon, May 16, at 12:45 p. m. instead of in the morning as first planned. The afternoon opening at 1:30, the annual exhibit of school work will take place. Each grade room will have its own exhibit. Much work has been done in the exhibit in the home economics department. The afternoon exhibit closes at 4 p. m. and the evening showing will open at 7 p. m.

Seniors will complete their work on May 23rd.

The board also approved the holding of a concert by the newly organized school band of fifty pieces. For this occasion the platform of the auditorium will need to be temporarily enlarged to accommodate this large group.

ALUMNI BANQUET

The Alumni Association of the Youngsville High School has now definitely decided on June 3rd as the date for the annual alumni banquet of the high school. The

More than 2000 Americans, killed at Belleau Wood and Chateau Thierry, are buried in the Aisne-Marne Cemetery "where poppies grow in Flanders' Fields." In the inset, President Roosevelt is being decorated with a Buddy Poppy by Carol Betty Wickman, of the V. F. W. National Home for war veterans' orphans at Eaton Rapids, Mich. This child welfare project is made possible with the proceeds of the sale of Buddy Poppies conducted annually by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S.

Parent Teacher Association will serve the banquet it is expected and for music during the dinner and at the dancing which will follow. Beebe's band has been secured. Guests outside the class are welcome to the dancing.

Latter Day Saints To Hold Conference In Erie, Jamestown

DINNER MEETING

The Methodist church school board held Tuesday evening their monthly dinner meeting with Mrs. R. L. Mead and Miss Hill. Tables were tastefully arranged in yellow and white with a basket of yellow tulips and buttercups as a centerpiece.

All are to bring table service and there will be program features and entertainment. Mrs. W. W. Ransom is chairman of the committee.

It was decided in June to have a vacation Bible school with Mrs. Warren Jones and Miss Nellie Knapp the committee from the Methodist church.

Mrs. M. Sellin and Mrs. Clarence Jones were appointed the committee for the Children's Day program.

Rev. and Mrs. Dwight Jack and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crandall are the committee for the next meeting, June 2, with 5:30 the dinner hour. The meeting closed with prayer by the pastor, Rev. Jack, who also presided at the business session.

ROTARY DINNER

At the Rotary dinner meeting a new member was received into the club and interesting reports of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States for the orphans and widows of war veterans, Carol Betty is one of more than 200 million children at the home, which is one of the principal beneficiaries of the annual Buddy Poppy sale.

BUDDY POPPIES TO BE SOLD IN BORO TOMORROW

When President Roosevelt, on April 9, accepted the first 1941 Buddy Poppy from seven-year-old Carol Betty Wickman, ward of the V. F. W. National Home, Eaton Rapids, Mich., he launched the 20th annual nationwide distribution of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

The 1941 Buddy Poppy sale will be sponsored in V. F. W. communities in every state, during the week preceding Memorial Day, May 30, under the auspices of approximately 3,500 local posts of the V. F. W. and 2,500 Ladies' Auxiliary chapters.

The local Buddy Poppy distribution will be held here tomorrow under the auspices of Dinsmoor-Schwartz Post, No. 631, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The general chairman is Earl R. Small. All proceeds of the sale will be used for the relief and welfare of disabled veterans and their families.

Carol Betty is the daughter of the late Edward John Wickman, who died in 1936. He served in the World War with the United States Navy. Upon his death, Carol Betty and her two little brothers became eligible to the V. F. W. National Home, maintained by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States for the orphans and widows of war veterans. Carol Betty is one of more than 200 million children at the home, which is one of the principal beneficiaries of the annual Buddy Poppy sale.

Since 1922, the V. F. W. has sponsored the Buddy Poppy distribution for the benefit of America's disabled veterans, and the widows and orphans of veterans. One cent from each of the millions of Buddy Poppies sold throughout the country, is devoted to the maintenance funds of the home. The balance of the receipts is spent for the V. F. W.'s local, state and national program of service and rehabilitation among veterans and their families.

The moon goes around the earth approximately 13 times a year, making one revolution in 27 days and 8 hours.

conferences expect to hear many informative and beneficial thoughts. The local missionaries, Miss Elizabeth Welker, Miss Joyce Peart, Elder Norman T. Johnson, and Elder Max J. Fenn wish to invite all members and friends in Warren to attend these sessions of conference.

KNIGHTS PLAN 88TH CONCLAVE AT PITTSBURGH

Twenty-four thousand four hundred and eighty-seven plumed Knights will be represented at the 88th annual convocation of the Grand Commandery of the Knights Templar, when it meets in Pittsburgh this month—May 25, 26, 27 and 28.

Of this number, the Second Division, which represents H. A. Walmer, commands all commanderies in Allegheny county, comprise 4,199. It is estimated that more than five thousand Sir Knights will register at the William Penn Hotel when on Sunday afternoon, May 25, an informal reception is tendered the visiting members and their ladies.

Receiving at this reception as hosts will be the present grand officers: Harry A. Walmer, Wilkesburg, grand commander of Pennsylvania; George Hay Kain, York, deputy grand commander; Harry J. Bell, Dawson, grand generalissimo; Samuel Wright, Drexel Hill, grand captain general; Roswell S. McMullen, Carbondale, grand senior warden; W. Pitt Gifford, Erie, grand junior warden; Boyd A. Musser, Scranton, grand treasurer; John W. Laird, Philadelphia, grand recorder; and Harry F. Zinsner, Pittsburgh, division commander No. 2.

After the afternoon reception the visiting Knights and ladies to the number of more than five thousand will be free to fraternize with Pittsburgh friends until the evening when they will attend divine services at the First Presbyterian church, where Dr. A. Gordon MacLennan, Grand Prelate, will deliver a sermon.

The social program for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be crowded with events that will not only give the visiting Knights and ladies an adequate idea of Pittsburgh's proverbial hospitality but also the vastness and importance of Father Pitt's industrial and cultural institutions.

On the business side the Sir Knights will be kept on the jump with executive and convention sessions and exhibition drills and parade. These business sessions will be held at the William Penn Hotel, where on Wednesday morning election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. On the same afternoon public installation of officers will occur in the main ball room.

The parade is always a feature of the Knights Templar convocations, for these public exhibitions of the fraternity rival in spectacular features the military parades that now we are to see in active and serious preparation for defense.

For the general public always the annual Templar parade is the event of the convocation. It will take place on Tuesday morning and will traverse a route yet to be mapped out. More than five thousand uniformed Knights Templars will be in line, including some of the best drill units in America. Their maneuvers and picturesque formations comprise perhaps the most spectacular pageant any city sees in the course of a twelvemonth.

Decorations were attractively carried out in lavender and yellow, with table centers of crystal bowls holding yellow tulips.

After the Doxology had been sung, Mrs. Edwin Jack, choir director, led group singing and Mrs. Guy McCloskey, Seekers' Class president, acted as toastmaster to introduce the various numbers.

Talented Warren Players' Cast Scores Decided Success With Interpretation of Comedy Hit

"Three Men on a Horse," which knocked New York audiences in the aisles during a record run on Broadway and repeated its Broadway success on the road, scored decisively here last evening when it was presented by the Warren Players as their 28th public production.

A cast composed of many of the Players' most dependable veterans and several who were making their debut in the public show field, was capably directed by Astrid Cowden, and the famous three-act comedy lost none of its laugh-packed action in the local interpretation.

From the opening curtain until the final line, the show was greeted with spontaneous laughter, which at times was so prolonged that the actors were compelled to take extended laugh-breaks.

Leon Jones, who appeared before in "Ah, Wilderness," played the leading role of Erwin Trowbridge and gave a performance which deserves a special niche in the Players' Club Hall of Fame.

Making their bows in a Players' public show were Betty Riddler and Victoria Nelson, who played the leading feminine roles. Both actresses gave superb performances and took their places among the favorites with local audiences.

Edwin F. Borden, as Frankie, whose appearance before the footlights had hitherto been confined to minstrels and musical comedy productions, also scored brilliantly, teamed with Bill Rice and Dick Smith, who surpassed even their long-to-be-remembered work in

"As Husbands Go," and many other public productions.

Homer Fleming and Monty McClure, two of the Players' most popular stars, drew a great share of the laughter and applause in their roles of J. G. Carver, Erwin's double-talking, irascible employer, and Clarence Dobbins, Erwin's pompous brother-in-law. Leo Driscoll, who has scored repeatedly in local productions, outdid himself as Harry, the bartender.

Others who added much to the rapid-fire comedy were Jean Harkless, who also made her public show debut, as Gloria, a newspaper photographer, and Frank Cruickshank, one of the stars of "Ah, Wilderness," who took the blackface role of Moses.

The minor parts were also perfectly cast, three of these, Mary Jane Jones, Ellsworth "Tut" Babbit and Lester Criswell making their initial appearances before the Warren public. William McClure, one of the club's youngest members but already a veteran performer, played the other minor role.

Lester Criswell and his capable staff of assistants deserve much credit for the manner in which they executed the settings designed by Lillane Criswell. Lighting was by Albert Dold, makeup by Betty Rice, and sound effects by Frank Cruickshank who also acted as stage manager. Patricia McClure is the book-holder.

A complete list of staff members will be published tomorrow. "Three Men on a Horse" is being repeated this evening, and a number of good seats are still available. Curtain is at 8:30.

Latin Students of Beauty and High School Hold Fifth Annual Banquet

The fifth joint banquet of Beauty and high school Latin students was held last evening at the Y. W. C. A. with nearly 200 in attendance. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bathurst, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Springer and Rev. H. C. Warren.

Dr. Warren, as guest speaker, told of personal experiences in France in the first World War and cited instances in which he had led many men to a Christian way of living through thoughts of home. He expressed his hope for tomorrow, "a world united for peace, of a flag containing stars representing the countries of the world."

Much of the success of the evening's program was due to the capable toastmaster, Robert Folkman, who introduced the various numbers. Other speakers were the school principals, Mr. Bathurst and Mr. Harris; Harry Conroy, of the senior class; Mr. Springer, faculty member; Anna Nichols, of the junior class; Joan MacLaren, speaking for freshmen and sophomores.

During dinner, music was furnished by The Men About Town, consisting of Joseph Cannon, Richard Guild, Neal Johnson and Larry Beyer. Special music included two violin numbers by James Shortt, "Souvenir" by Saint-Saens, with accompaniment by Meredith Young; Hugh Jamieson, Patricia Murray; Alice Munksgaard and Grace Young played "At Even," using violins, cello and piano; Robert Trummer played two piano-accompanied selections; Bonny Johnson sang "Caro Mio Lino" and "My Mother Bids Me Mind My Hair"; Harold Grosch played a guitar solo, and a double quartet composed of Dorothy Ann Harris, Martha Rasmussen, Patty Coe, Jean Dobson, Malcolm Young, Deane Nelson, Robert Dietrich and John Swick, accompanied by Eleanor Emery, led in singing Latin songs.

To the pupils who had maintained an average of 90 per cent or better for the year's Latin work, Miss Glenda Gilmore and Miss Leona Westlund presented certificates from the Association for the Promotion of the Study of Latin, and yellow roses. #### Salem Evangelical Women Enjoy Annual Banquet In Church

Mrs. Fred Rosentrater, president of the Willing Workers Class, was toastmaster and program chairman last evening for the annual mother and daughter banquet of the Salem Evangelical church. The Willing Workers sponsor this pleasing event, which attracted 125 members and guests.

Tables were beautifully decorated in rainbow colors and men of the Brotherhood assisted in the serving. Music throughout the dinner was provided by Miss Ruth Ackert, pianist.

After the opening song, "Praise God," Mrs. S. R. Schieb, wife of the pastor, voiced a prayer and Mrs. Rosentrater extended the welcome. The toast to mothers was given by Miss Marjorie Stuve, with Mrs. Ernest Huber responding. These remarks were interspersed with group singing.

A play which dealt with appreciation of mothers was presented by the following cast: Mary, Ruth Ackert; Pearl, Miss Olsch; Alice, Lillian Ristau; Grace, Alberta Rice; Kate, Marjorie Zobrist; Maud, Jane Brooks; Blanche, Phyllis Backstrom; Norma, Carolyn Huber; Mabel, Elvira Rydholm; the mother, Mrs. Harry Thompson. During this presentation, solos were sung by Miss Olsen, Lillian Ristau, Miss Rydholm, and Miss Brooks gave a poem.

Recognition was given the oldest mother, Mrs. Anna Maeder, aged 80, and the youngest daughter, Emily Ristau, aged 2, each being presented a gift.

Mrs. Schieb headed the dining room committee for the banquet, with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Maeder, Mrs. Harry Thompson, Mrs. Rosentrater and Mrs. Ernest Kaebnick. Responsibility in the kitchen was shared by Mrs. Gust Ristau, chairman; Mrs. Paul Ristau, Miss Tillie Stuve, Mrs. Albert Ristau, Mrs. Hediges, Mrs. Melvin Olson and Mrs. Ernest Kaebnick.

Mothers - Daughters Of First Evangelical Church Enjoy Party

There were more than 100 women of the First Evangelical church present for the annual mother and daughter banquet held in the church last evening. The Mothers' Class was responsible for the fine menu served and the Philathea Class had charge of the program.

Decorations were attractively carried out in lavender and yellow, with table centers of crystal bowls holding yellow tulips.

After the Doxology had been sung, Mrs. Edwin Jack, choir director, led group singing and Mrs. Guy McCloskey, Mothers' Class president, acted as toastmaster to introduce the various numbers.

The welcome from the daughters was given by Barbara Nelson, with her mother, Mrs. Harry G. Nelson, responding for the mothers. Mrs. Jack was accompanied for a quartet, composed of Lorraine Harkless, Frances Peterson, Mrs. Beryl Rhoades and Mrs. Geraldine Mathis, singing "To My Mother" by Grey. "Your Mother" was the theme of a poem read by Carol Amacher, followed by a recitation, "Question," by Josephine Carter.

Girls of the junior choir, directed and accompanied by Frances Peterson, sang "Mother" by Hoffman and "Lullaby" by Brahms. A poem, "My Mother," was given by Geraldine Robillard and Mrs. Robert Gray read an original thought on daughters. Mrs. Jack sang "For My Mother" by Malotte.

Mrs. H. Blair Ward, wife of the Church of the Nazarene pastor, was the guest speaker, giving a thoughtful address on "Builders." The quartet appeared again in "Welcome, Pretty Primrose" by Piusini-Benbow and the program concluded with the forming of a friendship circle and prayer.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Johnson, student nurse at the W. C. A. Hospital in Jamestown, was the out-of-town guest of her mother, Mrs. Freeman A. Johnson.

Talented Warren Players' Cast Scores Decided Success With Interpretation of Comedy Hit

"Three Men on a Horse," which knocked New York audiences in the aisles during a record run on Broadway and repeated its Broadway success on the road, scored decisively here last evening when it was presented by the Warren Players as their 28th public production.

A cast composed of many of the Players' most dependable veterans and several who were making their debut in the public show field, was capably directed by Astor Cowden, and the famous three-act comedy lost none of its laugh-packed action in the local interpretation.

From the opening curtain until the final line, the show was greeted with spontaneous laughter, which at times was so prolonged that the actors were compelled to take extended laugh-waits.

Leon Jones, who appeared before in "Ah, Wilderness," played the leading role of Erwin Trowbridge and gave a performance which deserves a special niche in the Players' Club Hall of Fame.

Making their bows in a Players' public show were Betty Ridel-sperger and Victoria Nelson, who played the leading feminine roles. Both actresses gave superb performances and took their places among the favorites with local audiences.

Edwin F. Borden, as Frankie, whose appearance before the foot-lights had hitherto been confined to minstrel and musical comedy productions, also scored brilliantly, teamed with Bill Rice and Dick Smith, who surpassed even their long-to-be-remembered work in "As Husbands Go," and many other public productions.

Homer Fleming and Monty McClure, two of the Players' most popular stars, drew a great share of the laughter and applause in their roles of J. C. Carver, Erwin's double-talking, irascible employer, and Clarence Dobbins, Erwin's pompous brother-in-law, Leo Driscoll, who has scored repeatedly in local productions, outdid himself as Harry, the bartender.

Others who added much to the rapid-fire comedy were Jean Harkless, who also made her public show debut, as Gloria, a newspaper photographer, and Frank Cruickshank, one of the stars of "Ah, Wilderness," who took the blackface role of Moses.

The minor parts were also perfectly cast, three of these, Mary Jane Jones, Ellsworth "Tut" Babbitt and Lester Criswell making their initial appearances before the Warren public. William McClure, one of the club's youngest members but already a veteran performer, played the other minor role.

Lester Criswell and his capable staff of assistants deserve much credit for the manner in which they executed the settings designed by Lillian Criswell. Lighting was by Albert Dold, makeup by Betty Rice, and sound effects by Frank Cruickshank who also acted as stage manager. Patricia McClure is the book-holder.

A complete list of staff members will be published tomorrow.

"Three Men on a Horse" is being repeated this evening, and a number of good seats are still available. Curtain is at 8:30.

Latin Students of Beauty and High School Hold Fifth Annual Banquet

The fifth joint banquet of Beauty and high school Latin students was held last evening at the Y. W. C. A. with nearly 200 in attendance. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bathurst, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Springer and Rev. H. C. Warren.

Dr. Warren, as guest speaker, told of personal experiences in France in the first World War and cited instances in which he had had many men to a Christian way of living through thoughts of home. He expressed his hope for tomorrow, "a world united for peace, of a flag containing stars representing the countries of the world."

Much of the success of the evening's program was due to the capable toastmaster, Robert Youngman, who introduced the various numbers. Other speakers were the school principals, Mr. Bathurst and Mr. Harris; Harry Conroy, of the senior class; Mr. Springer, faculty member; Anna Nichols, of the junior class; Joan MacLaren, speaking for freshmen and sophomores.

During dinner, music was furnished by The Men About Town, consisting of Joseph Cannon, Richard Guild, Neal Johnson and Larry Beyer. Special music included two violin numbers by James Shortt, "Souvenir" by Drda and "The Swan" by Saint-Saens, with accompaniment by Meredith Young; Hugh Jamieson, Patricia Murray, Alice Mungstad and Grace Youngman, who introduced the various numbers. Other speakers were the school principals, Mr. Bathurst and Mr. Harris; Harry Conroy, of the senior class; Mr. Springer, faculty member; Anna Nichols, of the junior class; Joan MacLaren, speaking for freshmen and sophomores.

Call for Trained Homemakers Is Reflected in Times-Mirror School

"Trained homemakers are needed."

The importance of providing an up-to-the-minute Cooking School for the community is emphasized again in those four words, which were coined—not by this paper for the coming school—but by the president of a leading American college.

This educator's words are particularly significant as the big opportunity days approach for the worthwhile Cooking School, coming May 20, 21, 22 and 23 in the Y. W. C. A. activities building.

"Home is the foundation of every civilization, as well as the center of family life. Trained homemakers are needed to protect and strengthen family ties, to give children intelligent physical care and guide their emotional, moral and spiritual development; to act as skillful purchasing agents; and to plan for a constructive use of leisure time."

Harmonizing with the need conveyed in the above words was this recent comment from Dr. Helen J. Bond, president of the American Home Economics Association:

"I think I shall live to see courses in homemaking and domestic economy taught at Yale."

chasing agents, nutritionists, and child psychologists, will meet a sympathetic friend in Mrs. Katherine Baldrige, who will preside over the demonstration kitchen in the Y. W. C. A. activities building. Because she knows the burden of responsibilities faced by conscientious homemakers, this prominent lecturer said, in her vigorous way: "The apologetic phrase 'Oh, I just keep house,' should be put on the shelf along with relics of the horse and buggy age. It is safe to predict that by the time the 1950 census is taken, enumerators will credit housewives with having a profession just as worthy of their respect as that of lawyers and doctors."

"No personal ambition, no building of a career, no accumulation of a fortune, can compare with the importance of homemaking. More and more young girls are realizing that efficient household management is not only a privilege, but a business obligation. When a modern woman approaches the task of homemaking with a full realization of its magnitude, and its relation to health, happiness and progress, it becomes a stimulating occupation and a fascinating game."

The "fascinating game" of homemaking will hold the center of the stage at each gay, profitable session of the Times-Mirror's Cooking School in the Y. W. C. A. activities building. Plus the exciting major awards will be generous daily gifts and unexpected surprises not announced in advance.

No modern homemaker can afford to miss one of the big opportunity dates, May 20, 21, 22 and 23.

It is estimated that 2100 cities, ranging in size from 2500 to 50,000, with combined population of nearly 12 million, have completely dispensed with mass transportation systems, leaving their people wholly dependent upon private cars or their fallen arches.

Salem Evangelical Women Enjoy Annual Banquet In Church

Mrs. Fred Rosentrater, president of the Willing Workers Class, was toastmaster and program chairman last evening for the annual mother and daughter banquet of the Salem Evangelical church. The Willing Workers sponsor this pleasing event, which attracted 125 members and guests.

Tables were beautifully decorated in rainbow colors and men of the Brotherhood assisted in the serving. Music throughout the dinner was provided by Miss Ruth Ackert, pianist.

After the opening song, "Praise God," Mrs. S. R. Schief, wife of the pastor, voiced a prayer and Mrs. Rosentrater extended the welcome. The toast to mothers was given by Miss Marjorie Stuve, with Mrs. Ernest Huber responding. These remarks were interspersed with group singing.

A play which dealt with appreciation of mothers was presented by the following cast: Mary, Ruth Ackert; Pearl, Melda Olsen; Alice, Lillian Ristau; Grace, Alberta Ristau; Kate, Marjorie Zolst; Maud, Jane Brooks; Blanche, Phyllis Backstrom; Norma, Carolyn Huber; Mabel, Elvira Rydholm; the mother, Mrs. Harry Thompson. During this presentation, solos were sung by Miss Olsen, Lillian Ristau, Miss Rydholm, and Miss Brooks gave a poem.

Recognition was given the oldest mother, Mrs. Anna Maeder, aged 80, and the youngest daughter, Emily Ristau, aged 2, each being presented a gift.

Mrs. Schief headed the dining room committee for the banquet, with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Maeder, Mrs. Harry Thompson, Mrs. Rosentrater and Mrs. Ernest Kaebnick. Responsibility in the kitchen was shared by Mrs. Gust Ristau, chairman; Mrs. Paul Ristau, Miss Tillie Stuve, Mrs. Albert Ristau, Mrs. Hedegs, Mrs. Melvin Olson and Mrs. Ernest Kaebnick.

Mothers - Daughters Of First Evangelical Church Enjoy Party

There were more than 100 women of the First Evangelical church present for the annual mother and daughter banquet held in the church last evening. The Seekers Class was responsible for the fine menu served and the Philanthropy Class had charge of the program.

Decorations were attractively carried out in lavender and yellow, with table centers of crystal bowls holding yellow tulips.

After the Doxology had been sung, Mrs. Edwin Jack, choir director, led group singing and Mrs. Guy McCloskey, Seekers' Class president, acted as toastmaster to introduce the various numbers.

The welcome from the daughters was given by Barbara Nelson, with her mother, Mrs. Harry G. Nelson, responding for the mothers. Mrs. Jack was accompanied for a quartet, composed of Lorraine Harkless, Frances Peterson, Mrs. Beryl Rhoades and Mrs. Geraldine Mathis, singing "To My Mother" by Grey. "Your Mother" was the theme of a poem read by Carol Amacher, followed by a recitation, "Question," by Josephine Carter.

Girls of the junior choir, directed and accompanied by Frances Peterson, sang "Mother" by Hoffman and "Lullaby" by Brahms. A poem, "My Mother," was given by Geraldine Robillard and Mrs. Robert Gray read an original thought on daughters. Mrs. Jack sang "For My Mother" by Malotte.

Mrs. H. Blair Ward, wife of the Church of the Nazarene pastor, was the guest speaker, giving a thoughtful address on "Builders." The quartet appeared again to sing "Welcome, Pretty Primrose" by Pinski-Benbow and the program concluded with the forming of a friendship circle and prayer.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Johnson, student nurse at the W. C. A. Hospital in Jamestown, was the out of town guest of her mother, Mrs. Freeman A. Johnson.

Talented Warren Players' Cast Scores Decided Success With Interpretation of Comedy Hit

"Three Men on a Horse," which has been a record hit on Broadway and repeated its Broadway success on the road, scored decisively here last evening when it was presented by the Warren Players as their 28th public production.

A cast composed of many of the players' most dependable veterans and several who were making their debut in the public show field, was capably directed by Astid Cowden, and the famous three-act comedy lost none of its laugh-packed action in the local interpretation.

From the opening curtain until the final line, the show was greeted with spontaneous laughter, which at times was so prolonged that the actors were compelled to take extended laugh-waits.

Leon Jones, who appeared before in "Ah, Wilderness," played the leading role of Erwin Trowbridge and gave a performance which deserves a special niche in the Players' Club Hall of Fame.

Making their bows in a Players' public show were Betty Ridel-sperger and Victoria Nelson, who played the leading feminine roles. Both actresses gave superb performances and took their places among the favorites with local audiences.

Edwin F. Borden, as Frankie, whose appearance before the foot-lights had hitherto been confined to minstrels and musical comedy productions, also scored brilliantly, teamed with Bill Rice and Dick Smith, who surpassed even their long-to-be-remembered work in "As Husbands Go" and many other public productions.

Homier Fleming and Monty McClure, two of the Players' most popular stars, drew a great share of the laughter and applause in their roles of J. G. Carver, Erwin's double-talking, irascible employer, and Clarence Dobbins, Erwin's pompous brother-in-law. Leo Driscoll, who has scored repeatedly in local productions, outdid himself as Harry, the bartender.

Others who added much to the rapid-fire comedy were Jean Harkless, who also made her public show debut, as Gloria, a newspaper photographer, and Frank Cruickshank, one of the stars of "Ah, Wilderness," who took the blackface role of Moses.

The minor parts were also perfectly cast, three of these, Mary Jane Jones, Ellsworth "Tut" Babbit and Lester Criswell making their initial appearances before the Warren public. William McClure, one of the club's youngest members but already a veteran performer, played the other minor role.

Lester Criswell and his capable staff of assistants deserve much credit for the manner in which they executed the settings designed by Lillane Criswell. Lighting was by Albert Dold, makeup by Betty Rice, and sound effects by Frank Cruickshank who also acted as stage manager. Patricia McClure is the book-holder.

A complete list of staff members will be published tomorrow.

"Three Men on a Horse" is being repeated this evening, and a number of good seats are still available. Curtain is at 8:30.

Latin Students of Beauty and High School Hold Fifth Annual Banquet

The fifth joint banquet of Beauty and high school Latin students was held last evening at the Y. W. C. A., with nearly 200 in attendance. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bathurst, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Springer and Rev. H. C. Warren.

Dr. Warren, as guest speaker, told of personal experiences in France in the first World War and cited instances in which he had met many men to a Christian way of living through thoughts of home. He expressed his hope for tomorrow, "a world united for peace, of a flag containing stars representing the countries of the world."

Much of the success of the evening's program was due to the capable toastmaster, Robert Folkman, who introduced the various numbers. Other speakers were the school principals, Mr. Bathurst and Mr. Harris; Harry Conroy, of the senior class; Mr. Springer, faculty member; Anna Nichols, of the junior class; Joan MacLaren, speaking for freshmen and sophomores.

Someday I'll Find You

Chapter 27
Pursued Again

EILEEN climbed up to the little room where she had lived with Molly, that evening, feeling as if everything in between had been a dream. Molly shrieked and hugged her; just the same cheerful red-cheeked pony-built girl. They sat down on the untidily made bed together in the old way, and Eileen told her tale. Eileen had forgotten how comforting that unbridled Irish sympathy could be.

"Sure, to hell with them all!" Molly said when the story was as far on as the divorce. "But you're in a good job now? I must say I think you were too high-minded about the cash. . . . And Eileen, I can't give you back the whole two thousand. Would five hundred of it—"

"No, I don't want it. Molly, you darling idiot! What I do want . . ."

She went on with her story: Lewis Delevan, just as she was settling into training for a wonderful career, wanting to marry her. "But, if you'd see whether Ris could take me back . . ."

"I'm marrying Ris myself next month," Molly said. "That's where I put the fifteen hundred. We bought in with a nursery garden in Rye." She sat back as if she had thrown a bombshell.

"Oh, how lovely!" Eileen said with delight.

After another long silence Molly went on: "I'm an ungrateful pig to be saying it, Eileen, and I'm fond of you as well you know. We'll save up and pay back every penny sooner or later. But I won't risk having you back: Ris was too crazy over you and that's the truth. Nor do I see what's wrong with this Delevan man. Couldn't you get to caring enough?"

"There was Martin—" Eileen said.

"And a fine sweetie he turned out to be—marrying you for a good joke and he tied up with the Dempster woman. I'd have taken a sound sum from him, he'd never have been missing it." At Eileen's look she added: "You mean you really cared?"

Even Molly thought she'd married Martin for what he had.

Then Molly said unexpectedly: "You poor lamb! But all the more I'd give the other his chance. Just try can you have a taste for him?"

Molly hugged her again. They parted good friends.

She couldn't blame Molly. After all, what she said added up to good sense. Lewis Delevan wasn't hurrying her. She could go on, now she knew, thinking it over. She had been bracing unconsciously against his charm, she had somehow been vaguely disliking him. And what good were her intuitions? She'd trusted Martin. She'd give Lewis a fair chance, let herself go. She went home, on the decision.

As time passed she found that he kept his promise at the office. But he was seeing her more and more out of office hours. He was calling for her at the Y.W.C.A., where impressed secretaries thenceforward were politer because she knew Mr. Delevan. He was taking her to theaters and lectures. Presently she had a raise.

Explosion

SHE supposed herself to be drifting, giving Lewis his chance. She woke to her mistake one evening when, calling for her in her pretty one-room apartment, he said abruptly: "We won't go to Rand School tonight. I don't see half enough of you—" And had her in his arms.

What emerged after a brief volcanic scene was the fact that Lewis had not supposed her to be thinking over her decision. He was taking their eventual marriage for granted.

"You love me whether you admit it or not," he said. "We haven't time for old-fashioned coquetties in this moment of the world. I have great things to do. With your help I can do them. I need you. You need me."

The deep rough convinced voice, the dominant blazing eyes, nearly swept her under. So far as Lewis was concerned, when he left her that night, feeling as if she had been through a hurricane, it was settled. Eileen sat down in the trim chintz room that was still beating with the intensity of Lewis Delevan's personality. She tried to think. No. There was no good reason why it should not be settled.

But the next morning, as she sat down to a table of blueprints under the efficient if hostile eyes of Miss Perry in charge of research, it came to her that she couldn't go on till she had got help on her problem from someone who knew Lewis. Violetta Lee might be a little old-fashioned and sentimental, but she was an ever-present help in time of trouble. Instead of telephoning, Eileen ran down the corridor to date Miss Lee for luncheon out of Miss Perry's hearing.

Miss Lee's usually neat, gray-walled room was in confusion. The glass-topped desk was cleared of its feminine knick-knacks and silver-framed photographs and little mottoes under the glass. Only a neat stack of typed papers, orderly folders, gray-covered reports, lay beside the filing case ready to be put away.

There was no sign of Miss Lee. A trim black satin back and two thin freckled arms belonging to Miss Bernstein were at stretch, lifting a flashlight picture, a dinner of women executives, off the far wall.

"Why, what's happening? Is Miss Lee moving?" Eileen demanded.

The trim black satin back whirled round. Miss Bernstein's usually gentle dark-eyed olive face was one snarl of undisguised fury.

"Yes, moving out for that yellow yes-man Burton to come in!" she spat. "I wonder you dare ask, you dirty sneaking little double-crosser. And she's been so good to you, like she is to everybody. Just too decent and high-minded to believe you could be the sort you are. She wouldn't believe it. That's what she said to me. 'I can scarcely believe it even now, Sally,' she said. She was crazy over you."

Eileen said blankly, "Believe what?" But before Sally answered she knew.

"What everybody knew, that you're Sally Lewis' girl, and his first-class one-woman spy system!" Sally was scolding and almost screaming. "That you're made Miss Lee believe in you and reported every word back to Saint Lewis like a damn little dictaphone, till he did like he always does with anybody he thinks might possibly get anywhere near him on merit—threw her out!" He'd climbed over folks' bodies like that ever since his first job at Rensselaer House, before he sold himself so big to old Willesdon. I hope he climbs over yours good and soon. Now get out!"

"You're crazy," Eileen stood with her hands clenched at her sides, hoping what she said was true. "I'm going to find out from Mr. Delevan, right now, and make you take back every word."

"Don't you worry, I won't be here; he won't keep anybody loyal to Miss Lee. Will you get out before I throw you out?" Sally advanced on her with clawed hands, like a fury. There was nothing to do but to go.

"Outworn"

EILEEN rushed into Lewis Delevan's office without warning. He looked up in surprise. He was—and her heart sank further—in conference with that very Burton; and Burton was, she had always secretly felt, very much what Sally Bernstein described him.

"Well, my dear girl," Lewis said with an open intimacy of manner. "What's happened?"

She stood still trying to speak quietly. "May I see you alone when you have finished talking to Mr. Burton?"

Mr. Burton looked at her admiringly. "My business can wait, Miss Eileen. No hurry, none at all." He rose, he was fawning on her, she was important, to be courted. She felt sick.

"Now what, darling?" Lewis smiled down at her as the door shut.

"I did tell you. That was why." She was staring at him. He smiled down, affectionate and interested. She cried out, "Miss Bernstein said so! She said it was my reputation on Miss Lee made you get rid of her. You were afraid she might get too near you!"

"My darling child, in social work it's dog eat dog just as it is everywhere else. Would you rather Miss Lee had gone all heartbroken and charming and misunderstood to Anderson and Beasley and ended me? I'm worth—you and I are worth—a half-dozen Lees to the state and the country."

"Then it's been true. All the time. The girls were right. I was your spy. And because Miss Lee was too decent to watch her step with me—oh!"

"Lewis' hand stroked her hair. "But, Eileen, this is an odd about-face. What's happened to the Eileen I knew, who could walk out of a Third Avenue cashier's job and make prize of an unknown millionaire by sheer cool fixity of purpose? You used to know that you can't make one-lets without breaking eggs. Aren't you turning pretty sentimental, sweet?"

"She drew away, beyond anger. "Good-bye, Lewis. Thank you for everything you've taught me."

"Where are you going, dear?" "To have it out with Miss Lee, first; not that she'll believe me. I don't know, after that."

"Not a bad idea. But I'd wait till she's cooled down." He did not understand her, she saw. "Be seeing you, dear."

In a less excited mood she could not have forced her way past Miss Lee's doorman, her bitter-faced maid, her angry old mother. They hated her, and they were right. She burst into Miss Lee's bedroom as she had into Lewis' office.

Call for Trained Homemakers Is Reflected in Times-Mirror School

"Trained homemakers are needed."

The importance of providing an up-to-the-minute Cooking School for the community is emphasized again in those four words, which were coined—not by this paper for the coming school—but by the president of a leading American college.

This educator's words are particularly significant as the big opportunity days approach for the worthwhile Cooking School, coming May 20, 21, 22 and 23 in the Y. W. C. A. activities building.

"Home is the foundation of every civilization, as well as the center of family life. Trained homemakers are needed to protect and strengthen family ties, to give children intelligent physical care and guide their emotional, moral and spiritual development; to act as skillful purchasing agents, and to plan for a constructive use of leisure time."

Harmonizing with the need conveyed in the above words was this recent comment from Dr. Helen J. Bond, president of the American Home Economics Association:

"I think I shall live to see courses in homemaking and domestic economy taught at Yale."

Busy homemakers who must act, seven days a week, as skilled pur-

"No personal ambition, no building of a career, no accumulation of a fortune, can compare with the importance of homemaking. More and more young girls are realizing that efficient household management is not only a privilege, but a business obligation. When a modern woman approaches the task of homemaking with a full realization of its magnitude, and its relation to health, happiness and progress, it becomes a stimulating occupation and a fascinating game."

The "fascinating game" of homemaking will hold the center of the stage at each gay, profitable session of the Times-Mirror's Cooking School in the Y. W. C. A. activities building. Plus the exciting major awards will be generous prizes and unexpected surprises not announced in advance.

No modern homemaker can afford to miss one of the big opportunity dates, May 20, 21, 22 and 23.

It is estimated that 2100 cities, ranging in size from 2500 to 50,000, with combined population of nearly 12 million, have completely disappeared with mass transportation systems, leaving their people wholly dependent upon private cars or their fallen arches.

Corporate Net Income Tax May Undergo Slash

estimated tax yields by approximately $25,000,000 when he submitted his $542,000,000 budget for the next two years.

As now planned, it was said, the Democratic House majority proposes:

1. To insist on the state taking over 12 county mental institutions under an act of 1938, at a cost to the state of approximately $9,000,000.

2. To require payment of $8,000,000 owed the schools for transportation, high school tuition and supervisors of special education.

3. Application of the remaining $8,000,000 to lower the tax on business enterprises.

The corporate net income, bank shares, domestic loans and personal property tax bills will be released next week and at the same time the appropriations committee plans to submit a statement of expected revenues.

The governor estimated the state's income from the emergency taxes at $184,575,500 for two years. Chairman Leo A. Achterman of the House appropriations committee said the estimates were too low "in practically every field."

Daring Rescue in Mid-Air Made by Navy Fliers

for the field to draw attention to the parachutist's plight.

Lowrey and McCants, test pilots who had never flown together before, noticed Osipoff's predicament. They hurried into a navy biplane dive-bomber and took off in pursuit of the transport.

Far out over the ocean and up to 1,500 feet they went for the over land was too rough for the precise flying their rescue plan entailed.

Slowly the smaller plane nudged up under the larger. Within 20 feet of the transport's tail assembly, Pilot Lowrey held his ship, while McCants reached over the side and hauled Osipoff in—as much as he could, considering the cockpit wouldn't hold two men.

Then Lowrey pointed the nose of his plane directly at the lines attaching Osipoff to the transport and with a slice of the propeller snipped them through. Such close work did the maneuver require that the propeller ticked the bottom of the passenger ship and broke away a piece of metal.

There were still ticklish moments. The partly opened chute, cut free, flared over the front of Lowrey's cockpit and, until at last it blew backward, blinded the flier.

"We didn't know where we were for a while," the lieutenant said. McCants, too, had his difficulties. The force of the propeller slipstream against Osipoff's partly exposed body, and the drag of the chute, to which the marine was still attached, set up such a pull that navy officers said it must have required "superhuman strength" to hold the rescued man aboard.

Chapter 27
Pursued Again

EILEEN climbed up to the little room where she had lived with Molly that evening, feeling as if everything in between had been a dream. Molly shrieked and hugged her, just the same cheerful red-necked pony-butt girl. They sat down on the untidy made-up bed together in the old way, and Eileen told her tale. Eileen had forgotten how comforting that unbridled Irish sympathy could be.

"Sure, to hell with them all!" Molly said when the story was as far on as the divorce. "But you're in a good job now! I must say I think you were too hasty-minded about the cash."

And Eileen couldn't give you back the whole thousand. Would she have a hundred of it?

"No, I don't want it. Molly, you darling idiot! What I do want."

She went on with her story. Lewis Delevan just as she was settling into training for a wonderful career, wanting to marry her. "But, if you could see, neither Rie could take me back."

"I'm marrying Rie myself next month," Molly said. "That's where I put the fifteen hundred. We bought in with a nursery garden in Rye." She sat back as if she had thrown a bomb.

"Oh, how lovely!" Eileen said with delight.

After another long silence Molly went on. "I'm an ungrateful pig to be saying it, Eileen, and I'm fond of you as well you know. We'll save up and pay back every penny sooner or later. But I'm on risk having you back. Rie was too crazy over you and that's the truth. Nor do I see what's wrong with this Delevan man. Couldn't you get to carrying enough?"

"There was Martin," Eileen said.

"And a fine sweetie he turned out to be—marrying you for a good joke and he tied up with the Dempster woman. I'd have taken a sound can't you think, and never have been missing it." At Eileen's look she added, "You mean you really cared?"

Eileen thought she'd married Martin for what he had.

Then Molly said unexpectedly, "You poor lamb! But all the more I'd give the other his chance. Just try can you have a taste for him?"

Molly hugged her again. They parted good friends.

She couldn't blame Molly. After all, what she said added up to good sense. Lewis Delevan wasn't turning her. She could go on. She knew that thing it over. She had been bracing unconsciously against his charm, she had somehow been vaguely distrustful of him. And what good were her intuitions? She'd trusted Martin. She'd given Lewis a fair chance. Let her off go. She went home, on the decision.

As time passed she found that he kept his promise at the office. But he was seeing her more and more out of office hours. He was calling for her at the Y.W.C.A. where impressed secretaries therefore were not to be trusted because she knew Mr. Delevan of the Williston Institute. He was taking her to theaters and lectures. Presently she had a raise.

Explosion

SHE supposed herself to be drifting, giving Lewis his chance. She woke to her mistake one evening when, calling for her in her pretty one-room apartment, he said abruptly, "We won't go to Rand School tonight. I don't see half enough of you—And had her in his arms."

What emerged after a brief volcanic scene was the fact that Lewis had not supposed her to be thinking over her decision. He was taking their eventual marriage for granted.

"You love me, whether you admit it or not," he said. "We haven't time for old-fashioned coquettish in this moment of the world. I have great things to do. With your help I can do them. I need you. You need me."

The deep, low, convincing voice, the dominant glazing eyes, nearly swept, or under so far as Lewis was concerned, when he left her that night feeling as if she had been through a hurricane, it was settled. Eileen sat down in the trim little room that was still beating with the intensity of Lewis Delevan's personality. She tried to think. No. There was no good reason why it should not be settled.

But the next morning as she sat down to a table of blueprints under the efficient, hostile eyes of Miss Perry in charge of research it came to her that she couldn't go on till she had got help on her problem from someone who knew Lewis. Violetta Lee might be a little old-fashioned and sentimental but she was an ever-present help in time of trouble. Instead of telephoning, Eileen ran down the corridor to date Miss Lee for luncheon out of Miss Perry's hearing.

Miss Lee usually neat, gray-haired woman, was in confusion. The glass-topped desk was cleared of its feminine knick-knacks and silver-framed photographs and little notices under the glass. Only a neat stack of lined papers, orderly folders, gray-covered reports, lay beside the filing case ready to be put away.

There was no sign of Miss Lee. A trim black satin back and thin-freckled arms belonging to Miss Bernstein were at the door lifting a flashlight picture, a dim-

Dykes' Final Day As Active Player Sees Chicago Trip Yanks

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox are performing tricks again in the American League, hovering around second place with a collection of cast-offs while other star-studded clubs wallow in despair.

Their aging pitchers have surpassed the staffs of every other team in both majors by hurling 17 complete games out of 24 played, in spite of hit-and-miss help from their teammates.

The Sox have played errorless ball in only four of their contests, and their inconspicuous hitting has caused 9 of their 14 victories to come through a one-run wringer.

Their lineup includes Joe Kuhel and Taft Wright, a couple of pick-ups from the Washington Senators; Dario Lodigiani, a throwaway by the Athletics; Billy Knickerbocker, castoff utility infielder of the New York Yankees; Myril Hoag, who was passed around by both the Yanks and St. Louis Browns, and other derelicts.

But this conglomerate cast has abiding faith in Manager James Joseph Dykes, and ability to rise to the occasion.

Yesterday was an occasion—the retirement of their brash, swash-buckling leader as a player after 22 years on the active list of the American League. He hadn't played in a game since 1939 and at 44 years of age, is growing portly and bald. However, this last concession to time, removal from the playing roster, was an event—and the Sox celebrated.

They whipped out a 14-hit offensive and sent the once-proud Yankees crashing to their fifth straight defeat, 13-1. The Sox had made only five homers all season, but they belted three more as evidence of their enthusiasm—and Knickerbocker and Hoag, each collected four hits.

Lefty Ed Smith, whom the Sox acquired at the waiver price in 1939, from the Athletics, pitched nine-hit ball.

The Cleveland Indians kept rolling with a 6-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox, with Bob Feller doing a ninth-inning relief chore. He was rushed in with two on and none out, and retired the side.

The Detroit Tigers broke their six-game losing streak by overwhelming the Athletics, 10-2, with a vicious 18-hit attack and the seven-hit hurling of young Hal Newhouser.

The St. Louis Browns shut out the Washington Senators, 7-0, with a sensational one-hit pitching performance by slender Dennis Galehouse, one of the pitchers the Browns bought from the Red Sox last winter. He had a potential no-hitter until Jim Bloodworth singled with two out in the seventh.

Cincinnati's World Champions went staggering to their fifth consecutive defeat, 5-4, at the hands of the Phillies in the first night game of the year. Gene Thompson blew up to give the National League tail-enders four runs in the ninth.

The Boston Braves bumped off the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3, in a loose game, played in 90-degree temperature. Seven pitchers gave 26 hits.

Hal Schumacher outpitched Claude Passeau, six hits to eight, and led the New York Giants to a 2-1 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

The Brooklyn Dodgers were kept idle by wet grounds at Pittsburgh.

A ballroom floor of sheet copper is the pride of one London restaurant.

SPORT SPATTERINGS

Yesterday we promised to dwell at length on the local sport scene in penning this trilogy of farewell. At this writing this topic occupies an area almost completely within the confines of Warren High School, with independent baseball dormant and organized baseball unborn, basketball fallen to the semi-pro status after a Golden Age in National League and professional football's status next fall depending upon the inroads of the Selective Service Act. But, after all, scholastic athletics have provided the major thrills for Warren's sports-loving citizens, and perhaps it is only fitting that we devote some of these final paragraphs to the warriors garbed in the blue and white, and their mentors.

Although all too few are thoroughly conscious of the fact, Warren is fortunate and unique in the bureau of scholastic athletics. Our vocabulary is far too limited to pay the proper tribute to the director of athletics, Jacob Baer Leidig, who has been at the helm since 1912, but from time to time we have endeavored to emphasize his tremendous worth to the community, not only as a coach but as a classic example of character-builder. Had our readers been given the opportunity to see the methods of coaching and the results of the same that obtain in certain other schools, they would appreciate still more the value of Jake Leidig. We have been in close touch with him for many years and we never cease to marvel at the influence he is able to exert on class after class—yes, even generations.

But we have said this before and recanted many bits of Leidigiana which should have served to impress his greatness upon those few who have not been able to recognize it for themselves. We think one of his most outstanding accomplishments is the able manner in which he directs the affairs of the athletic association, so that our teams are adequately garbed and protected in the various fields of sport, yet not so expensively equipped that only a few may indulge in competitive athletics. When you see an opposing team run out on the field, with their satin pants and silk jerseys, their fancy plastic headguards, costly blankets etc., and Warren lines up in gear that may seem drab in comparison, don't let it affect your civic pride. Just remember this. For every penny saved on color and showmanship, some extra boy is getting a chance to participate.

You can always rest assured of this—so long as Jake is at the helm, athletic association affairs are so conducted that the maximum number of youths is being given an opportunity to compete in sports, the welfare of each is guarded carefully and Warren High's reputation as a hard-fighting, clean-playing team will be retained. We don't mean to imply that there are not other schools whose officials are desirous of keeping athletics on a high plane, but in no case that we know of has a community any better reputation for its sportsmanship on the scholastic grid, court or diamond than Warren. Back in the 17th century, John Seiden picked up his quill and dashed off this nifty: "They that govern the most make the least noise." So we'll toot Jake's horn, which he tries so hard to keep muted.

Coach Leidig's staff is well balanced and we believe his brother Dragon mentors have followed closely in his wake. And although we've stressed character-building, we are not unmindful that Leidig's football teams have registered over 200 victories since he arrived in our midst. That Coach Kolpien's basketball teams have won far more than their share of league and district championships, that Coach Fleming's gymnasiums have twice in a row been crowned state champs. Yes, sir, we do all right for ourselves up in this northern tier and without attracting athletes from neighboring schools or playing ducks and drakes with the eligibility rules. We prophesy that organized baseball will one day return to Warren, that pro football will remain a major attraction and that the hardwood will again draw big crowds. There'll be boom times and bad times, but no matter what comes, the Dragons we shall always have with us.

NON-TITLE BOUT FINDS JENKINS 7 TO 5 UNDERDOG

BY SID FEDER

New York, May 16—(AP)—Laughlin Lew Jenkins goes to the post against serious Bob Montgomery in Madison Square Garden tonight to try to prove once again that the best way to get ready for a fight is to play the fute box circuit on a motorcycle.

And young Bob, a Philadelphia Negro who works harder for a fight than a bridegroom trying to avoid attention, is just as sure he can show that Lew's way doesn't pay.

Of course, this immediate ten-round tea party will pay for both of them, regardless, since they'll be cutting up the big end of an expected $40,000 gate, kindly contributed by a "house" of some 14,000 customers. And, if Montgomery wins he'll also have a chance to pick up some more change in a shot at Fritz Zivic's welterweight title.

But beyond that, this tussle, which has no bearing on Jenkins' lightweight championship, should decide whether the right way to get ready to bash another Guy's back is (A) the Jenkins system or (B) the Montgomery manner of putting your mind to it and really working.

Up to now, Lew has had the idea that training has something to do with climbing on and off railroad cars. His chores have consisted off and on of giving the bright lights a hassle, of making the rounds of all kinds of spots, usually obliging with a tune on his "git-tar" and an accompanying, if unrelated, vocal refrain. He has been generally just a good-time guy.

But this time, the dice may not roll seven for Lew. In fact, the betting men are so sure of it, they've made him a 7 to 5 underdog for the fight. They're remembering how close Montgomery came to taking the skinny Texas thumper apart the last time they met, when Bob had Lew on the floor and then blew a close decision by going into a crouch in the closing rounds. They're remembering, too, that Montgomery is a better fighter today, will have four or five pounds on the Sweetheart Swatter and is making what probably will be his last start as a lightweight in this weight. This corner agrees with all of this and likes Montgomery to win.

From all indications, the fight won't last long, once they come out swinging at 10 p. m. The right arms of both of these fellows can out-pitch Bobby Feller and his fireball. And if the end doesn't come before the tenth round, it will only be because they'll have dipped their chins in concrete before climbing into the ring.

FAMED COLORED TEAM WILL OPEN FORGE SEASON

Baseball's greatest attraction, the Homestead Grays, four-time champions of the National Colored League and three world champions, will open the National Colored and Ordinance's baseball season at Wilder Field, Irvine, next Thursday.

The game will begin at 5:30 o'clock. Among the stars to be seen in the Grays' lineup are Walter "Buck" Leonard, greatest first baseman of all times; Chet Williams, Easterling, Carlisle, Manager Harris, Jerry Benjamin and Whatley.

Leonard made a great hit with fans last year in the National Colored League game played at Russell Field when he hammered the pill and fielded faultlessly. A great showman and comedian, Leonard had last year took time off from clowning to hit league pitching for a cool 336 average, which included 15 home runs, ten triples and 16 doubles.

Whatley, undoubtedly one of the fastest men in baseball, hits as hard as Leonard and is a demon on the base paths.

Last Night's Bouts

By the Associated Press
Wilkes-Barre, Pa. — Corporal Mike Raffa, 127, Pittsburgh, out-pitched Billy Speary, 127, Nanticoke, (12).

"Last year," continued the veteran pilot, "the American League had its greatest year with attendance surpassing all records. Nothing happened during the winter to dull the interest. Yet this season the crowds have been far below that of last year x x x."

"We want to give the fans what they want—and they want more night baseball now. If we don't satisfy them we'll be left holding the bag."

Conn-Knox Fight Date Is Set Ahead

Pittsburgh, May 16—(AP)—The all-star boxing bout featuring a 15-round bout between Billy Conn and Buddy Knox of Dayton, O., has been advanced from the night of May 27 to May 26 because promoter Arthur J. Rooney said, "The president is a bit too much of an opponent to face these days."

President Roosevelt last week decided to make a fireside chat on the night of May 27, a date previously selected by the promoters, who include the Dapper Dan charity club. Rooney said he thought many fans might want to remain home and listen to the president.

Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh negro, will meet Lee Savold, of Des Moines, Ia., in the ten round semi-final fight.

Russell High Bows To Massa Combine

Jim Snyder came through with base knocks when the clutch was on to give Kinzua a 12-7 decision over Russell High last night on the Warriors' diamond.

Ray Peterson's relief hurling was one of the features of the game, and Ray also collected a pair of hits for the Massa crew. Although Russell got only three hits, one of which was a circuit clout by Jim Akeley, it was a ball game all the way until Kinzua broke out with a six-run rally in the fifth to break a deadlock.

Church Loop Tilt Taken By Phalanx

The Phalanx Fraternity had little trouble with the Methodists last night and took a 14-3 Church League decision. Berry featured the hitting spree of the winners with a home run.

Smith and Javens were the winning battery with Miller and Riggs on the hill for the Methodists and Johnson doing the catching.

METZGER SALE ATTRACTS MANY DESPITE RAIN

Despite the rainy day, many customers of the Metzger-Wright Company took advantage of the 45th Anniversary Sale values on Thursday and the store was humming with business all during the day.

Of the 45 lilac tickets which have been hidden, only 35 have been found. As there were 16 more tickets hidden this morning it is expected that by closing time tonight many more will have been found.

A $10 Dorothy Perkins set and a $9.95 North Star blanket are among the gifts awaiting the lucky finders these two days and on Saturday a $28.95 set of silver will be given away to the lucky finder of one of the lilac tickets.

Those receiving gifts on Thursday were Mrs. H. A. Schuler, Mrs. Kitty Smith, Mrs. Richard English, Mrs. George Joline, Mrs. C. E. Offerle, Mrs. Margaret Davis, Miss Pearl Kerven, of Warren, and Miss Madeline Magnusen, of Sheffield.

Much interest is being shown in the Lilac Tournament and it is expected that today and Saturday morning will bring many more entries.

WARREN MOOSE LODGE JOINING IN OBSERVANCE

Officers of Warren Lodge, No. 109, Loyal Order of Moose, announced today that they are joining with all other units of the Moose fraternity in adopting a large class of candidates as a testimonial to the 72 students who will be graduated in June from the famous Moose City of Childhood, located at Mooseheart, Ill.

The graduating class this year comprises 47 boys and 25 girls, all sons and daughters of deceased members of the Loyal Order of Moose. Some of these young men and women graduating from Mooseheart will leave the only home some of them have ever known, ready to take their places in the world as good and useful members of modern society. Their education, training and welfare has been given to them at the famous Child City through the assistance of the almost one-half million members of the Loyal Order of Moose.

The members of this year's graduating class represent the 23rd group to be graduated from Mooseheart since 1919, when the original class of five boys completed their training there. Since that time 1,535 boys and girls, all orphaned through the death of their fathers, have been graduated. During their stay at Mooseheart, each child is equipped with a high school education and is taught proficiency in one or more of the 23 practical trades taught there.

In connection with this program and in celebration of the 32nd anniversary of the local lodge, a class of 100 candidates will be initiated into the order on Sunday afternoon, May 18. The degree and drill team from Port Allegany lodge will be in charge of the initiatory ceremony. William Anderson, general governor of the order from Mooseheart, will be the guest of Warren Lodge and speaker for the occasion.

Members from Bradford, Erie, Franklin, Oil City, Titusville, Kane, Port Allegany, Johnsonburg, Ridgway, St. Marys, Jamestown, N. Y., Gowanda, N. Y., and Salamanca, N. Y., lodges will be present.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Deal—Moose St. Johnsbury, (Vt.) Caledonian Record: "Attention, sinners: Since he's sticking to the straight and narrow and stopped straying on the corners, Whirlaway has picked up $117,416 in just two efforts."

A Few On The House

Buddy Baer now says he'll flatten Louis with a right to the jaw. Of course, Joe just will be standing there waiting for it. Answer to sports quiz: In 1886 and 1888 and though the guy's name was William H. Terry, it wasn't the cheerless leader of the Giants. Only baseball games Georgia lost this year and last were to Auburn: The defeats knocked the Bull-Dogs out of the Southeastern Conference title both times. South America wants to see Bronko Nagurski do his hurping act. Joe McCarthy prefers to do his raving about the Dodgers these days, and you can't blame him the way the Yanks are staggering around.

Move Over, Gents

Dutchess County, N. Y., famous for President Roosevelt and Secretary Morgenthau, is going to have to build an annex to its hall of fame. Four pitchers of four high schools in the county have hurled no-hit, no-run games this month.

You Said It

Joe Louis' 27th birthday anniversary this week found the champion still capable of handing out many unhappy returns.

Future of Colonies Debated

administration spokesmen have repeatedly made clear that any attempt by a puppet government to use New World colonies in the interests of another power would be considered a change of colonial sovereignty and hence a violation of the Monroe Doctrine. The United States took Greenland under its protection as a precaution against this, following German occupation of Denmark.

President Roosevelt took the unusual step last night of issuing an appeal to the French people over the head of the Vichy government.

He called on them, in effect, to reject even yet any "so-called" collaboration which will in reality imply their alliance with a military power whose central and fundamental policy calls for the utter destruction of freedom.

The unexpected pronouncement from the White House followed swiftly on the heels of the radio address of Marshal Henri Petain to the French people, saying that "collaboration" negotiations had "lighted the pathway to the future" for France and that it was up to the people "to follow me without mental reservation."

Mr. Roosevelt's statement, well informed authorities said, could be interpreted as meaning that this government no longer placed reliance in the ability of the aged World War marshal to resist German pressure for progressively more active cooperation with the Nazi program.

This "collaboration" it was believed, probably would entail Vichy's abandonment of neutrality and then a gradual gravitation to the status of a belligerent against Britain, France's erstwhile ally.

Before President Roosevelt spoke out, the government manifested its abrupt withdrawal of confidence in Vichy by ordering armed coast guardsmen aboard all French vessels, including the luxury liner Normandie, once the pride of France's merchant fleet.

The reason for this action was not explained. Coast guard officers said merely "you can draw your own conclusions," but other sources asserted that it was undoubtedly to protect the ships—numbering a dozen or more—from possible sabotage, such as crippled most of the recently seized Axis vessels.

One aspect of Mr. Roosevelt's statement that aroused particular interest was his implication that Vichy was about to conclude an alliance with Germany. This led to the belief in diplomatic quarters that the chief executive based his remarks on information direct from Admiral William D. Leahy, ambassador at Vichy, because the generalities of Marshal Petain's address were not considered sufficient for such a conclusion.

Leahy, who has the reputation of a shrewd realist, conferred for an hour with Petain in Vichy on Tuesday, the day France's vice-premier, Admiral Jean Darlan, returned from Germany with the "collaboration" terms he had worked out in discussions with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

The president's statement was quickly broadcast by short wave, an indication that the government was desirous of reaching as large a world audience of French people as possible.

Bill to White House

Little debate half a dozen minor amendments attached to the measure when the Senate passed it 59 to 20 yesterday.

Chairman Bland (D-Va.) of the Merchant Marine Committee said, however, that he wished to inquire into the United States to take over, except by purchases, any of the 32 idle foreign vessels in American ports if they are government-owned.

The Maritime Commission has said that so far as it knew all of the ships, which President Roosevelt proposes to take over for defense purposes, are owned by nationals of foreign governments.

Under the bill, the president would be empowered to requisition, purchase, charter or take title to the ships—including 14 French, 28 Italian and 2 German vessels—and use or dispose of them as he saw fit. Owners would be compensated.

The Senate defeated by a five-vote margin an amendment which would have barred transfer of any of the Axis ships to England. However, administration officials have said they intend to use all 83 ships in trade with South America and on intercoastal routes.

Hess Case Remains a Riddle

he would delay a statement until such time as it would be "in the public interest."

Berlin, May 16.—(P)—Rudolf Hess is proving to be an embarrassing guest in England, telling the British they have no chance to win the war, a Nazi spokesman said today.

"We have the impression the British soon will be only too glad to send Hess back," this source commented.

It was described here as significant that neither Prime Minister Churchill nor Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden seemed to care to talk to Hess.

Prevention of such a catastrophe was what Hess in the delusion of a Messiah had hoped to spare the British people, the spokesman contended.

"At any rate it's safe to say that in a few days the Hess theme will be more embarrassing to England than Germany," it was asserted.

Berlin observers approvingly noted that British comment to the effect that Hess' arrival in the British Isles wouldn't change German war plans, except possibly speed them up.

HARVARD EXCITED

OVER STARLET VISIT

Cambridge, Mass., May 16.—(P)—Forced to beat a retreat under a barrage of oranges thrown at her car by Harvard students, Marjorie Woodworth, Hollywood movie starlet, returned early today and attended the Harvard Lampoon's annual ball.

The staff of the undergraduate comic magazine attributed the fruit throwing to factions envious of the Lampoon.

Reaching near-riot proportions with fist fights and the hurling of beer cans back and forth amongst students in the streets, the demonstration caused the Cambridge police to send their juvenile delinquency squad into action in a move to restore order.

Blow Paper Declares

On the other hand, they were willing to discuss the matter unofficially from the viewpoint of the German man-in-the-street.

It's strictly the French government's affair, these sources said emphatically, in answer to all questions regarding Syria.

Next Move of Hitler

Iraq newspapers flared with headlines reporting that Soviet Russia was "disposed" to lend help and that Russian volunteers were joining the Iraq air force to help fight against Britain.

In the war in the air, the British sent some of the RAF's biggest bombers against Berlin—the Germans admitted a "number" of explosive fire-bombs fell on the outskirts of the Reich capital—and also attacked Hannover, Hamburg, Cuxhaven and Nazi invasion ports along the French coast.

Heavy explosions rumbling across the channel coast for several hours before dawn indicated that RAF bombers were hammering at Boulogne, Calais and German bases further inland.

Once again Hitler's Luftwaffe remained strangely inactive, peppering the British Isles with only small, widely-separated attacks.

Coupled with the successful British counter-attack in North Africa, Premier Mussolini's high command admitted that British forces were striking hard at the Italian stronghold of Amba Alaji, in northern Ethiopia.

The British have reported 58,000 Italians trapped in the post.

METZGER SALE ATTRACTS MANY DESPITE RAIN

Despite the rainy day, many customers of the Metzger-Wright Company took advantage of the 45th Anniversary Sale values on Thursday and the store was humming with business all during the day.

Of the 45 lilac tickets which have been hidden, only 25 have been found. As there were 16 more tickets hidden this morning it is expected that by closing time tonight many more will have been found.

A $10 Dorothy Perkins set and a $9.95 North Star blanket are among the gifts awaiting the lucky finders these two days and on Saturday a $28.95 set of silver will be given away to the lucky finder of one of the lilac tickets.

Those receiving gifts on Thursday were Mrs. H. A. Schuler, Mrs. Kitty Smith, Mrs. Richard English, Mrs. George Joline, Mrs. C. E. Offerle, Mrs. Margaret Davis, Miss Pearl Kerven, of Warren, and Miss Madeline Magnusen, of Sheffield.

Much interest is being shown in the Lilac Tournament and it is expected that today and Saturday morning will bring many more entries.

WARREN MOOSE LODGE JOINING IN OBSERVANCE

Officers of Warren Lodge, No. 109, Loyal Order of Moose, announced today that they are joining with all other units of the Moose fraternity in adopting a large class of candidates as a testimonial to the 72 students who will be graduated in June from the famous Moose City of Childhood, located at Mooseheart, Ill.

The graduating class this year comprises 47 boys and 25 girls, all sons and daughters of deceased members of the Loyal Order of Moose. Some of these young men and women, graduating from Mooseheart, will leave the only home some of them have ever known, ready to take their places in the world as good and useful members of modern society. Their education, training and welfare has been given to them at the famous Child City through the assistance of the almost one-half million members of the Loyal Order of Moose.

The members of this year's graduating class represent the 25th group to be graduated from Mooseheart since 1910, when the original class of the boys completed their training there. Since that time 1,539 boys and girls, all orphaned through the death of their fathers, have been graduated. During their stay at Mooseheart, each child is equipped with a high school education and is taught proficiency in one or more of the 25 practical trades taught there.

In connection with this program and in celebration of the 32nd anniversary of the lodge, a class of 100 candidates will be initiated into the lodge on Sunday afternoon, May 19. The lodge and drill team from Port Allegany lodge will be in charge of the initiatory ceremony. William Anderson, general chairman of the order from Mooseheart, will be the guest of Warren Lodge and speaker for the occasion.

Members from Bradford, Kane, Franklin, Oil City, Tunkhannock, Kane, Port Allegany, Johnsonburg, Ridgway, St. Marys, Jamestown, N. Y., Gowanda, N. Y., and Salamanca, N. Y. lodges will be present.
